The Ethics of Nuclear Weapons Dissemination Thomas E. Doyle, 2015-02-11 This book examines the moral dilemmas of nuclear dissemination and the justifications of both nuclear pursuit and avoidance by contemporary states Applying Constructivist methodologies and moral theory the author analyses a core set of moral dilemmas that ensnare decision makers amongst state and non state nuclear aspirants as well as amongst states committed to preventing horizontal proliferation The book shows that the character structure and implications of these dilemmas have not yet been adequately understood or appreciated and that such an understanding is necessary for an effective set of nonproliferation policies Furthermore it shows that the dilemmas force and political policy import are evident in the discourses that diverse actors undertake to defend their nuclear choices and how the dilemmas of nuclear aspirants are implicated in those of nuclear preventers The author advocates a number of policy recommendations that reinforce some already made by scholars and experts but more importantly others that advise significantly different courses of action The book reveals how the moral dilemmas of nuclear aspiration avoidance and prevention constitute the security dilemmas and paradoxes that comprise much of the 21st century security environment This book will be of much interest to students of nuclear proliferation international relations ethics and international security studies

Wells, 1996-03-25 This is the first encyclopedia that critically surveys the ethics of warmaking from a variety of perspectives Noted experts raise basic questions about what is just in war describe the views of historic and contemporary thinkers on ethical matters survey practices at different periods and discuss key issues The over 250 entries arranged in alphabetical order cover efforts to curb the havoc of war from medieval to modern times from accidental war to Zagreb Resolution different religious perspectives genocide UN peacekeeping and much more Sources for further reading accompany the entries and internal cross references and an index make this major reference easily accessible for students and teachers in military peace and world affairs studies This is the first encyclopedia that critically surveys the ethics of warmaking from a variety of perspectives Historically efforts to curb the havoc of war have confronted three military maxims military necessity the right of reprisal and the obligation of soldiers to obey superior orders The medieval efforts of just war theorists to protect the innocent avoid needless havoc and prohibit excessive weapons rarely affected military practice Modern congresses have pointed out the inconsistency in concerns about war crimes or crimes against humanity and the weapons and strategies of modern war The pressures of the military industrial complex the profits to be gained by war production and the demands of sovereign nationalism contradict such alternative concerns as those raised by the United Nations and the International Red Cross. Noted experts raise basic questions about what is just in war, describe the views of historic and contemporary thinkers on ethical matters, survey practices at different periods, and discuss key issues. The over 250 entries arranged in alphabetical order cover efforts to curb the havoc of war from medieval to modern times, from accidental war to the Zagreb Resolution, different religious perspectives, genocide, UN peacekeeping, and much more. Sources for further reading accompany the entries, and internal cross references and an index make this major reference easily accessible to students and teachers in military, peace, and world affairs studies. Ethics and Statecraft Cathal J. Nolan, 1995. This text offers a set of portraits of key leaders struggling with great moral issues in critical political settings. The use of political biographies to illustrate the exercise of statecraft during periods of war, in peacemaking, and in times of major change cuts to the heart of the role of ethics in the decision-making process and in international affairs.

Kunkel, Joseph Kunkel, 1989 Ethics Barbara MacKinnon, 2001. Combining theory and issues with text and readings, this ethics text begins with coverage of ethical theory, utilitarianism, Kant's moral theory, natural law, and virtue ethics. It then goes on to discuss contemporary ethical issues ranging from personal ones such as sexual morality and euthanasia to matters of public policy such as legal punishment and international concerns such as war and peace and economic justice. Violence: A Philosophical Anthology Vittorio Bufacchi, 2009-04-15. The first anthology of philosophical essays on the nature and justifiability of violence taken from the last 100 years, exploring a range of philosophical issues pertaining to violence. Contemporary Moral Problems James E. White, 1988 The Journal of Philosophy, 1996 Encyclopedia of Philosophy Donald M. Borchert, 2006. A world list of books in the English language. Catholicism in Crisis, 1984 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1996 Values & Public Policy Claudia Mills, Robert J. Fogelin, 1992. Ideal for courses in ethics, moral problems, and public policy, this contemporary anthology encourages students to scrutinize normally unquestioned popular notions. All selections are drawn from CQ The Report From The Center For Philosophy And Public Policy and refer to issues such as air pollution, human rights, and education issues with which our country is currently formulating public policy. Blends real-life policy debates with otherwise empty ethical abstractions, prompting students to contribute opinions and ask questions. Grants flexibility to instructors by offering a wide variety of selections, more than 80 to choose from, depending upon the focus of their courses.
