Major Inflations In History:

Major Inflations in History Forrest Capie, 1991 This volume is concerned with periods of very rapid inflation in the period before 1950 and shifts the emphasis from hyperinflation as commonly defined to a wider range of experience It examines the source and origins of these inflationary episodes how they started and what measures were used to bring them to an end The experience of the last twenty years when the entire world has been on fiat money and inflation has burgeoned sometimes in excess of 100 per cent per annum has led economists to reflect on historical examples of this phenomena The extreme nature of episodes such as the German inflation of the early 1920s ensures that they offer a special kind of evidence on money and prices that is of considerable interest at the present time Much of the material here is very recent as relatively little contemporary attention was given to inflations and much of the best scholarship has only appeared in the last twenty years However this volume also provides the reader with access to the reflections of contemporary economists such as Joan Robinson and Gordon Tullock Monetary and Banking History Geoffrey Wood, Terence Mills, Nicholas Crafts, 2011-05-11 Forrest Capie is an eminent economic historian who has published extensively on a wide range of topics with an emphasis on banking and monetary history particularly in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries but also in other areas such as tariffs and the interwar economy He is a former editor of the Economic History Review one of the leading academic journals in this discipline Under the steely editorship of Geoffrey Wood this book brings together a stellar line of contributors including Charles Goodhart Harold James Michael Bordo Barry Eichengreen Charles Calomiris and Anna Schwartz The book analyzes many of the mainstream themes in economic and financial history monetary policy international financial regulation economic performance exchange rate systems international trade banking and financial markets where historical perspectives are considered important The current wave of globalisation has stimulated interest in many of these areas as lessons of history are sought These themes also reflect the breadth of Capie's work in terms of time periods and topics

The Death of Inflation R. P. Bootle, 1996 Personal finance An Analysis and History of Inflation Don Paarlberg, 1993 This history and analysis examines fifteen great inflations from Ancient Rome to the French Revolution to post World War I Germany to modern day Brazil to provide an understanding of the causes of inflation A unique feature of the book is the evidence presented that a moderate degree of inflation is usually accompanied by increased economic activity Contrary to the views of many moderate inflation appears to be welcomed by most people and assists in returning incumbent political leaders to power In addition the money illusion the belief that money has constant value over time is shown by the author to be grievously in error Presenting views which are at odds with much of mainstream economics Paarlberg concludes that inflation is caused by an excess of money and since the creation of money is a government monopoly governments are responsible for inflation Additionally various macroeconomic theories are unable to account for gyrations of production and prices The best explanation for these matters therefore is to be found in institutional economics which takes into regard
