Making A Killing:

Making a Killing John Nassivera, 1986      Making A Killing Bob Torres, 2007-11-01

Suggest to the average leftist that animals should be part of broader liberation struggles and once they stop laughing you'll find yourself casually dismissed. With a focus on labor, property and the life of commodities Making a Killing contains key insights into the broad nature of domination, power and hierarchy. It explores the intersections between human and animal oppressions in relation to the exploitative dynamics of capitalism. Combining nuts and bolts Marxist political economy, a pluralistic anarchist critique as well as a searing assessment of the animal rights movement, Bob Torres challenges conventional anti-capitalist thinking and convincingly advocates for the abolition of animals in industry and on the dinner plate. Making A Killing is sure to spark wide debate in the animal rights and anarchist movements for years to come.

Advance praise for Making A Killing
Bob Torres: Making a Killing draws a very straight line between capitalism and the oppressive system of animal agribusiness. Drawing from social anarchist theory, Torres provides a convincing argument that in order to fight animal exploitation we must also fight capitalism and in doing so, animal rights activists will need to reconsider their methods and redirect their focus. While his critiques of the animal rights movements' large organizations may not earn him friends in high places, such considerations are crucial to keeping the movement on track and for preventing stagnation. Making a Killing is an important work from a new voice in animal advocacy that will surely spark heated discussions amongst activists from all corners of the movement.

Ryan MacMichael, vegblog.org: In Making A Killing, The Political Economy of Animal Rights, Bob Torres takes an important and timely look at the animal rights movement, calling for a synthetic approach to all oppression, human and animal. His analytical framework draws together Marxism, social anarchist theory and an abolitionist approach to animal rights to provide a timely social analysis that will no doubt have profound effects on the animal rights movement literature.

Gary L. Francione, Distinguished Professor of Law, Rutgers University: Bob Torres's socioeconomic analysis of nonhuman animal use is a welcome and important addition to the understanding of human/nonhuman relations at the beginning of the 21st century. In particular, Making a Killing makes a vital contribution to understanding the role of the property status of animals and the continuing strength of various welfarist positions on the ethics and indeed the economics of the human utilisation of other animals. Making a Killing will become required reading for social scientists and others interested in modern social movements and the socioeconomic forces that shape their activities and their claims.

making: Dr Roger Yates, Lecturer in sociology at University College Dublin, Republic of Ireland: This is the book I've been waiting for. Making A Killing is a rare and powerful example of first-rate scholarship, a searing critique and lively declaration of the rights of animals and humans. You will walk away from this book with a clear understanding as to why social justice movements for people must take animal rights seriously and vice versa. Bob Torres has
