Making Markets Work For The Environment:

Making Markets Work for Africa Eleanor M. Fox, Mor Bakhoun, 2019 This is a book on market law and policy in sub-Saharan Africa. It shows how markets can be harnessed by poorer and developing economies to help make the markets work for them to help them integrate into the world economy and raise the standard of living for their people while preserving their values of inclusive development. It studies particular countries and particular regions, delving deeply into the facts.

Making Markets Work for the Environment Great Britain. Department of the Environment, 1993 This guide reflects the Government's preference for economic instruments which are seen as a more flexible and cost effective way of achieving environmental goals than regulation. For officials in policy development the guide outlines the factors that should be considered when deciding how to meet environmental objectives, explains the rationale for using economic instruments, considers the major instruments which are available and suggests which type is likely to be most suitable for addressing particular classes of environmental problem.

Making Markets More Inclusive K. McKague, M. Siddiquee, 2014-07-24
Most studies of doing business at the bottom of the economic pyramid focus on viewing the poor as consumers as micro entrepreneurs or as potential employees of local companies. Almost no analysis focuses on the poor as primary producers of agricultural commodities, a striking omission given that primary producers are by far the largest segment of the working age population in developing economies. Making Markets More Inclusive bridges the management literature with original research on agricultural value chains in developing and emerging economies. This exciting work is the first to delve into the skills, capabilities, strategies and approaches needed for inclusive value chain development. McKague shows how NGOs and companies can connect poor producers in developing economies with the right markets to better create social and economic impact. He also analyzes one of the leading agricultural value chain initiatives in the world which is being replicated by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation in several different value chains in Malawi, Tanzania, Ghana, India and Mali. Want more? Check out these compelling videos which provide a glimpse into the stories and examples used throughout the book. Video Trailer for Making Markets More Inclusive. Farmer Training: Kallani Rani increased the productivity of her cows, became a cattle feed seller in her village (Chapter 6) and opened a fresh milk canteen in her local market (Chapter 7). She now trains other women farmers and works to improve opportunities for women in her community (Chapter 5). Animal Health Care Services: Asma Husna trained to be an animal health worker with CARE to provide important animal health services and education to local farmers on a fee for service basis (Chapter 6). Cattle Feed Shops: Fulera Akter started a business as a cattle feed seller after demand for nutritional animal feed grew due to farmers improved knowledge of nutrition (Chapter 6). Savings Groups: Coauthor Muhammad Siddiquee, the Coordinator of Agriculture and Value Chain Programs at CARE Bangladesh, discusses the value of farmer savings groups (Chapter 6). Milk Collection: Sarothi Rani became a milk collector to earn an improved income for her family and provide an important service to other dairy farmers in her community (Chapter 7). Digital Fat Testing:

Introducing digital fat testing machines into the dairy value chain helped reward farmers for making investments in producing higher quality milk as well as ensuring transparent and timely payments Chapter 7 Microfranchising Supporting agricultural input shop owners with training relationships to suppliers common branding and standardized customer services improves the productivity of smallholder farmers and the profitability of shops Chapter 12 Bangladesh Dairy Value Chain Learning Reflections from some of the 40 CARE staff from 17 countries who came to Bangladesh to learn from the experience of the dairy value chain project Chapter 15 Protecting the Global Environment Gary C Bryner, 2015-11-17 Gary Bryner's brief readable capstone book Features a forward by Mark A Boyer Outlines the major environmental challenges facing the world today Applies international relations theory to these challenges Covers such key topics as development sustainability and market capitalism Offers a social justice perspective to environmental problems and solutions Borne of an amalgam of social science fieldwork and a passionate commitment to justice this book brings debates about climate change to a new level compelling readers and researchers to rethink the reasons for reversing global environmental trends The book lays out three inspirations for improving environmental prospects effective markets sustainable development and environmental justice for the most vulnerable It also projects three possible scenarios flowing from the success or failure of these inspirations one bleak one breakthrough and one of status quo Gary Bryner is not sanguine about humanity's ability to make the right choices but this does not deter him from asking us to think beyond our own generation and our own species in urging environmental action now Making Markets Work for Environmental Policies Danmark.
