Nations in Transit 2005 Freedom House, 2005 Measures progress and setbacks in democratization in 27 countries from Central Europe to the Eurasian region of the Former Soviet Union A report on Kosovo appears as an addendum to the Serbia and Montenegro report This book covers events from January 1 through December 31 2004 Welfare State Transformation in the Yugoslav Successor States Marija Stambolieva, 2016-04-28 Welfare states are the product of economic political and social interactions and undergo changes as these interactions transform Existing welfare state theories mainly tend to explain the emergence and development of the welfare state in the western industrialized and capitalist world While the states of Central and Eastern Europe have recently been integrated in the academic discourse the countries of the former Yugoslavia have been predominantly excluded from comparative analysis Issues of nationalism and ethnic polarization have been prevalent there while socio economic issues have been put on the back burner This book explores what happened to the strong social states and relatively equal societies which existed in Slovenia Croatia Serbia and Macedonia and looks into what accounts for these diverse outcomes By investigating the applicability of the theories on welfare state development and typologization it fills in the gap in the welfare state literature It offers an original typology of social citizenship that takes into account the diversity of welfare policy formations across the region The aim of this typology is not to compete with existing ones but rather to offer a framework for better understanding of states that do not necessarily fit into known explanatory categories In a global context of changing economic circumstances and contending political responses macroeconomic policy and welfare state reform become order of the day By featuring the ways that states adjust to new pressures this book's arguments may come in handy to those trying to make sense of the crisis and the powers that drive the policy solutions

Regional Integration Processes in the Commonwealth of Independent States Katarzyna Czerewacz-Filipowicz, Agnieszka Konopelko, 2016-11-26 This book investigates the economic political and cultural factors that influence regional economic integration processes as well as international political cooperation in the area of the Commonwealth of Independent States CIS The authors analyze market integration manifested in interregional trade investment and service connections Taking a constructivist approach they shed new light on how national ethnic religious and linguistic factors as well as systems of government political regimes and models of leadership shape foreign policy decision making in various post Soviet countries

Youth Movements and Elections in Eastern Europe Olena Nikolayenko, 2017-10-12 This book examines a dramatic rise of nonviolent youth movements on the eve of national elections in Eastern Europe European Union Enlargement and Democratisation Michael Toomey, 2025-08-31 Enlargement is often considered to be the strongest foreign policy tool available to the European Union and is instrumental in the EU's efforts to spread its liberal democratic norms in the post communist countries of Central and Eastern Europe However the experience of recent years has painted a more uneven picture While the EU's norms have proven to be reasonably robust in countries such as Czechia in others most notably

Hungary they have proven to be far more fragile What accounts for this post accession variation in adherence to liberal democratic norms between the post communist Central and Eastern European Countries And what implications does this have for the use of enlargement policy as a means for spreading democracy This book explains the processes and mechanisms which determine how the liberal democratic norms of the European Union can be transferred to another country and why enlargement has had such mixed results to date

European External Democracy Promotion Annette Jünemann, 2007 ICCEES International Newsletter , 2003 Post-communist Transformations Tadayuki Hayashi, Atsushi Ōgushi, 2009 The State of Local Democracy in the Western Balkans Elena Gadjanova, 2006 A prime political objective of the EU is to bring long lasting stability to and foster democratisation in the Western Balkans This study provides a snapshot of the state of democracy at the local level in Albania Bosnia and Herzegovina the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia Serbia including Kosovo and Montenegro It examines a number of factors such as degree of fiscal and legal autonomy provisions for citizens involvement in decision making implementation of minority rights civil society media It also looks at the strength and salience of central state institutions issues of self determination and ethnicity and past international involvement An analysis of the achievements and challenges to democracy at the local level is done on a country by country basis

Taiwan Journal of Democracy , 2008 Problems of Post-communism , 2006 International State-building After Violent Conflict Marc Weller, Stefan Wolff, 2008 Previously published as a special issue of Ethnopolitics this volume analyzes various dimensions of the internationalized state building process in Bosnia and Herzegovina since 1995 In December 1995 the Dayton Agreements ended the war in Bosnia and Herzegovina and established a fragile peace between the former conflict parties The settlement seemed morally wrong and politically impracticable but still necessary in order to end violence of a scale and intensity not seen in Europe since the end of the Second World War The leading contributors conclude that internationalized state building can only serve well in the stabilization of states emerging from conflict if it draws on a well balanced approach of consociational techniques moderated by integrative policies tempered by a wider regional outlook and sustained by resourceful and skilled international involvement The experience of Bosnia and Herzegovina may not have scored full marks in all of these categories but important lessons can be gleaned for other similar contemporary and future challenges that the international community no doubt will have to face This book will be of interest to students and scholars of international organizations civil wars and ethnic conflicts international law and peace studies

Central Asia Between East and West Martin C. Spechler, 2008 Polish Sociological Review , 2008 Beyond Transition , 2004 State-building Verena Fritz, 2007-05-10 An analysis of post Soviet state building and of post communist transition in Ukraine Lithuania Belarus and Russia Historical Dictionary of Moldova Andrei Brezianu, Vlad Spânu, 2007-04-23 The Republic of Moldova s European lineage reaches back in time long before its 14th century accession to statehood In the 15th century the nation managed to avoid being conquered by

Islam and albeit as an intermittent vassal after 1485 it maintained its autonomy and was never provincialized by the Ottoman Empire After this period however Moldova would not be so fortunate as it altered between Russian Romanian and Soviet control until finally gained its independence in 1991 from the Soviet Union      Ukraine, The EU and Russia Stephen Velychenko, 2007-10-23 Ukrainians reemerged on Europe's political map in 1991 after more than 200 years of direct Russian rule As there was no liberation war and old regime elites were not exiled or executed the legacies of the past weigh down particularly heavily Political independence is not matched by economic cultural and psychological independence This book surveys the Ukrainian EU relationship in light of the legacies of Russian rule It examines interrelationships between identities loyalties and political cultural orientations reviews policies and identifies salient forces and trends      Economic and Political Development Ethics Bruno S. Sergi, William T. Bagatelas, 2007      Neue Aufsätze in der Bibliothek, 2006
