Lucky Year:

Encyclopedia of New Year's Holidays Worldwide William D. Crump, 2014-05-09 Among the world's myriad cultures and their associated calendars the idea of a New Year is relative and hardly specifies a universal celebration or even a universal point in time. Ways of celebrating the New Year range from the observances of religious rituals and superstitions to social gatherings featuring particular foods, music, dancing, noisemaking, fireworks, and drinking. This first encyclopedia devoted exclusively to the New Year includes 320 entries that give a global perspective on the New Year beyond its traditional Western associations with Christmas. National or regional entries detail the principal traditions and customs of 130 countries while 27 entries discuss major calendar systems in current use or of significant historical interest. The remaining entries cover a wide variety of subjects including literary works, movies, and television specials, the customs of specific ethnic groups, universal customs such as toasting and drinking, football bowl games, and parades, and the New Year celebrations at the White House and the Vatican.

Smart Money Stanley H. Teitelbaum Ph.D., 2021-09-07 In Smart Money Dr. Teitelbaum conveys how to identify and overcome our emotional roadblocks that interfere with successful investing and he explores ways for people to develop greater trust in their ability to navigate their own investment decisions and to reduce their reliance on financial advisors. We all have personality issues that can become impediments to successful investing in the stock market and lead us into pitfalls like buying high and selling low following the herd and searching for the next guru. Dr. Teitelbaum explains how addressing and overcoming our personal obstacles and implementing a set of guidelines such as distinguishing luck from skill, leaving your ego out of investment decisions, recognizing the value of self discipline, avoiding self deception, taming your inner con man and inner critic, and tuning out the media noise will enable investors to achieve a greater degree of success. Praise for Smart Money In this painstakingly researched and well written book the clinical psychologist Stan Teitelbaum has applied his craft to something all investors know too well: our emotions and human foibles often diminish our portfolio results. He takes you through countless cases of common mistakes using markets and the heroes of the past. As you read it you will personally identify with some of his examples and find yourself saying That's me. As a result you are likely to learn some important money management lessons along the way. Byron Wien, vice chairman of Blackstone Private Wealth Solutions Group, Stanley Teitelbaum's disciplined approach to investing is a wise path for individual investors to build wealth over time. His understanding of the stock market's volatility, its cyclical nature, its inherent risks, and its history of performance informs that approach. Dr. Teitelbaum illustrates clearly how our own behavior and our very human impulses often lie at the bottom of our disappointing investment results and how recognizing and controlling our behavior can lead to successful investing. Al Messina, managing director, Silvercrest Asset Management Group. This is quite an engaging book about psychological perceptions of risk and its relation to stock investing. It should appeal to both financial types and a general audience. Edward N. Wolff, professor of economics, New York University.

Discourses on Religious Diversity Professor

Martin D Stringer,2013-09-28 Religious diversity is an ever present and increasingly visible reality in cities across the world It is an issue of immediate concern to city leaders and members of religious communities but do we really know what ordinary members of the public the people who live in the city really think about it Major news items inter religious violence and notorious public events often lead to negative views being expressed especially among those who would not consider themselves to have a religious identity of their own Martin Stringer explores the highly complex series of discourses around religion and religious diversity that are held by ordinary members of the city discourses that are often contradictory in themselves and discourses that show that attitudes to religion vary considerably depending on context and wider local or national narratives Drawing on examples from UK particularly Birmingham one of the UK s most diverse cities Europe and the United States Stringer offers some practical suggestions for ways in which discourses of religious diversity can be managed in the future Students in the fields of religious studies sociology anthropology and urban studies practitioners involved in inter religious debates and church and other faith leaders and politicians should all find this book an invaluable addition to ongoing debates    The Chautauquan ,1893    The Jersey Bulletin and Dairy World ,1920    Monthly Packet
