Love Without Pretense:

Love Without Pretense Walter T. Wilson, 1991 Revision of the author's thesis University of Chicago 1990 Women in the Greetings of Romans 16.1-16 Susan Mathew, 2013-02-28 Susan Mathew examines the structures of mutuality in Romans to shed light on the issue of women's leadership in Pauline theology Mathew begins by analyzing the general form of greetings in the Pauline letters to shed light on the specific form of the greetings in Rom 16.1-16 Mathew then couples this with analysis of the leadership of women in the Greco Roman world showing that women's leadership roles in the Pauline churches were part of this wider culture This provides a basis from which to show that the women named in Romans 16.1-16 display Paul's acknowledgment of some women associates and point to relationships of mutuality in the greetings A study of Romans 12-13 helps to apprehend the model of mutuality exemplified in the greetings Finally the contextual application of mutuality in the community as mutual welcoming and mutual up building Romans 14-15 is brought into focus This enables Mathew to draw together the strands of the Pauline ethos of mutuality which encourages the leadership roles of women in the greetings at the end of Romans

Sex, Christ, and Embodied Cognition Robert H. von Thaden Jr., 2017-06-13 A sociorhetorical analysis of First Corinthians Robert H von Thaden Jr's sociorhetorical analysis examines Paul's construction of sexual Christian bodies in First Corinthians by utilizing new insights from conceptual integration blending theory about the embodied processes of meaning making Paul's teaching about proper sexual behavior in this letter is best viewed as an example of early Christian wisdom discourse This discourse draws upon apocalyptic and priestly cognitive frames to increase the rhetorical force of the argument Reading Paul's argument through the lens of rhetorical invention von Thaden demonstrates that Paul first attempts to show the Corinthians why sexual immorality is the worst of all bodily sins before shifting rhetorical focus to explain to them how they can best avoid this infraction against the body of Christ Features A programmatic application of conceptual integration theory using a sociorhetorical mode of interpretation A vivid account of key aspects of conceptual integration theory and how they function in sociorhetorical interpretation A detailed application of these strategies to interpret 1 Corinthians 1.4-6.12-7.7

The Letter to the Romans Douglas J. Moo, 2018-11-26 For more than twenty years Douglas Moo's NICNT volume on Romans has been providing pastors students and scholars with profound insight into Paul's most famous letter In this thorough revision of his commentary Moo deals with issues that have come into prominence since the first edition 1996 incorporating the latest research and rewriting the text throughout for better comprehension Exegetically astute and theologically minded Moo interacts critically with the new perspective on Paul highlights the emphasis in Romans on practical divinity and traces the theme of the gospel throughout the letter His Letter to the Romans in this second edition will inform and enlighten a new generation of serious Bible readers

Life in Christ Raniero Cantalamessa, 2016-03-24 In Life in Christ Raniero Cantalamessa preacher to the papal household presents a project of evangelization and spiritual renewal based on St Paul's Letter to the Romans It is therefore neither an exegetical

commentary nor a theological treatise but goes straight to the heart of what animated the Apostle when he wrote this letter His aim was not to give the Christians of Rome and the Christians of later generations a difficult text on which to exercise their critical wisdom but rather to impart a spiritual gift to them so that they would be strengthened and mutually encouraged by each other's faith At the beginning of the third millennium a new phenomenon is spreading through the Christian Churches which can only be the work of the Holy Spirit Up to now Christians of different denominations have proclaimed Jesus Christ mainly in competition and rivalry with one another thus compromising our testimony in the eyes of the world Why should we not grasp this unique occasion to start proclaiming together with brotherly love our common belief in Christ which is far more important than what still separates us Pope John Paul II has espoused this project and has expressed the wish that all Christians take this opportunity for fruitful cooperation in the many areas which unite us these are unquestionably more numerous than those which divide us Life in Christ is a contribution to the realization of this project Father Cantalamessa has made the most of the insights and riches present in each one of the three main Christian traditions Catholic Orthodox and Protestant avoiding those points not commonly shared by all believers in Christ or at least by the majority of them The Letter to the Romans lends itself to this aim because it deals with the basics of the Christian faith leaving all the rest aside It is the ideal basis for that Common Witness which is becoming more and more central to ecumenical dialogue This is therefore a first and partial attempt to present a spirituality and a proclamation corresponding to the new grace of understanding and unity given to the Christians in the second half of this century Chapters are Loved by God all Have Sinned The Righteousness of God Has Been Manifested He Was Put to Death for Our Trespasses He Was Raised for Our Justification God Did Not Spare His Own Son Let Not Sin Reign in Your Mortal Bodies The Law of the Spirit Which Gives Life The Spirit Intercedes for Us Let Love Be Sincere Don't Think Too Highly of Yourselves By One Man's Obedience and Let Us Put on the Armor of Light Raniero Cantalamessa OFM Cap is a past professor of the history of Christian origins at the Catholic University of Milan and a member of the International Theological Commission He is preacher to the papal household and the author of The Mystery of Pentecost Easter in the Early Church The Eucharist Our Sanctification The Mystery of God's Word The Holy Spirit in the Life of Jesus Jesus Christ The Holy One of God Mary Mirror of the Church The Mystery of Christmas and The Mystery of Easter published by The Liturgical Press

Constructing the Self Valérie Nicolet-Anderson, 2012 Using some of the works of Michel Foucault 1926-1984 as a conversation partner Valerie Nicolet Anderson focuses on the manner in which Paul constructs the identity of his audience in his letter to the Romans In particular she analyzes how the notions of autonomy and self agency function for both authors In this dialogue Valerie Nicolet Anderson examines whether Paul can still play a relevant part in contemporary discussions around the notion of identity The approach to Paul presents a narrative reading of Romans and displays an interdisciplinary hermeneutics which brings together New Testament exegesis and post modern philosophy The author constructs a dynamic picture of Paul as engaged in the shaping of the ethos of his communities through various strategies She highlights Paul's actuality reflecting the current use of Paul by continental philosophers and invites more interdisciplinary reflection between exegesis and philosophy

Liberating Words Rollin A. Ramsaran, 1996 All cultures and all religious movements have their own traditional sayings and most have a collection of religious maxims as well This book shows how maxim usage is valuable in determining by whom for whom and how maxims are used to provide internal ordering stability and a general staple of teaching material for religious movements In particular readers are invited to consider the full and proper context that stands behind the social interaction of Paul and the believing community in Corinth The author argues that this context is incomplete without a recognition of the rhetorical conventions of maxim usage in Paul's world Understanding Paul's use of maxim argumentation as in part a response to the maxim argumentation of some Corinthians opens a window on 1 Corinthians 1:10 that has not been previously explored

Love, Loss, and What We Ate Padma Lakshmi, 2016-03-08

A vivid memoir of food and family survival and triumph Love Loss and What We Ate traces the arc of Padma Lakshmi's unlikely path from an immigrant childhood to a complicated life in front of the camera a tantalizing blend of Ruth Reichl's Tender at the Bone and Nora Ephron's Heartburn Long before Padma Lakshmi ever stepped onto a television set she learned that how we eat is an extension of how we love how we comfort how we forge a sense of home and how we taste the world as we navigate our way through it Shuttling between continents as a child she lived a life of dislocation that would become habit as an adult never quite at home in the world And yet through all her travels her favorite food remained the simple rice she first ate sitting on the cool floor of her grandmother's kitchen in South India Poignant and surprising Love Loss and What We Ate is Lakshmi's extraordinary account of her journey from that humble kitchen ruled by ferocious and unforgettable women to the judges table of Top Chef and beyond It chronicles the fierce devotion of the remarkable people who shaped her along the way from her headstrong mother who flouted conservative Indian convention to make a life in New York to her Brahmin grandfather a brilliant engineer with an irrepressible sweet tooth to the man seemingly wrong for her in every way who proved to be her truest ally A memoir rich with sensual prose and punctuated with evocative recipes it is alive with the scents tastes and textures of a life that spans complex geographies both internal and external Love Loss and What We Ate is an intimate and unexpected story of food and family both the ones we are born to and the ones we create and their enduring legacies Library of the World's Best Literature, Ancient and Modern: A-Z Charles Dudley Warner, 1902 *The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia: The Century dictionary ... prepared under the superintendence of William Dwight Whitney ... rev. & enl. under the superintendence of Benjamin E.
