Skelton, 1992 Following the formation of a regular army in 1784 a popular distrust of military power and the generally unsettled nature of national administration kept the army in a continual state of fluctuation both in terms of organisation and size Few officers were making a long term commitment to military service But by 1860 a professional army career was becoming a way of life In that year 41 5 percent of officers had served 30 years compared to only 2 6 percent in 1797 Quadrennial Report of the Adjutant General California.
