Making Of Saints:

Making Saints Kenneth L. Woodward, 2016-04-26 From inside the Vatican the book that became a modern classic on sainthood in the Catholic Church Working from church documents Kenneth Woodward shows how saint makers decide who is worthy of the church's highest honor He describes the investigations into lives of candidates explains how claims for miracles are approved or rejected and reveals the role politics papal and secular plays in the ultimate decision From his examination of such controversial candidates as Archbishop Oscar Romero of El Salvador and Edith Stein a Jewish philosopher who became a nun and was gassed at Auschwitz to his insights into the changes Pope John Paul II has instituted Woodward opens the door on a 2 000 year old tradition

The Making of Saints Michael Freze, 1991 Making Sense of Saints Patricia Ann Kasten, 2014-04-16 Saint cards statues and medals Saint posters tee shirts and costumes Even saint apps and Facebook pages Who are these saints and why do they matter to me Who decided they were saint worthy in the first place Why aren't there more present day saints Now everything you always wanted to know about saints and some things you didn't know you wanted to know all in this fun and handy book that is perfect for families teachers catechists and everyone hoping to grow in their faith with the help of these holy hall of famers You'll be fascinated and delighted by topics such as Just Four Easy Sort of Steps The Canonization Process Doesn't He Just Glow Saints Symbols There's a Man Buried under the Altar Relics of Saints Holy Haloes God Made Man Saints and Martyrs as Superheroes Yo ho ho The Treasure Chest of the Church And much more Let Patricia Kasten help clear up canonization demystify monastics and unriddle relics in Making Sense of Saints

The Making of Saints James F Hopgood, 2005-04-24 A multidisciplinary study of the commonalities between heroes icons saints and their institutions across several cultures Making Saints Kenneth Woodward, 1991 Prophets in Their Own Country Aviad M. Kleinberg, 1992-10 In this original study of the making of saintly reputations Aviad M Kleinberg shows how sainthood though frequently seen as a personal trait is actually the product of negotiations between particular individuals and their communities Employing the methods of history anthropology and textual criticism Kleinberg examines the mechanics of sainthood in daily interactions between putative saints and their audiences This book will interest historians anthropologists sociologists medievalists and those interested in the study of religion A fascinating and sometimes iconoclastic view of saints in the medieval period Sandra R O Neal Theological Studies An important new book And an excellent piece of scholarship Diane L Mockridge Method the book is a pleasure to read Veronica Lawrence Theological Book Review Original and interesting Kleinberg has made a major contribution Anne L Clark American Historical Review Kleinberg's concern is not just with perceptions of sanctity but refreshingly with what actually happened and he is especially good on the conflict of the two This is not just a book but a way of thought and one that promises interesting conversations at all levels from the church porch to the tutorial and the academic conference Helen Cooper Times Literary Supplement

Making Saints Kenneth L. Woodward, 1992-06-01 Making and remaking saints in nineteenth-century Britain

Gareth Atkins,2016-08-25 This book examines the place of saints and sanctity in a self consciously modern age and argues that Protestants were as fascinated by such figures as Catholics were Long after the mechanisms of canonisation had disappeared people continued not only to engage with the saints of the past but continued to make their own saints in all but name Just as strikingly it claims that devotional practices and language were not the property of orthodox Christians alone Making and remaking saints in the nineteenth century Britain explores for the first time how sainthood remained significant in this period both as an enduring institution and as a metaphor that could be transposed into unexpected contexts Each of the chapters in this volume focuses on the reception of a particular individual or group and together they will appeal to not only historians of religion but those concerned with material culture the cult of history and with the reshaping of British identities in an age of faith and doubt Making Martyrs East and West Cathy Caridi,2016-03-14 In Making Martyrs East and West Cathy Caridi examines how the practice of canonization developed in the West and in Russia focusing on procedural elements that became established requirements for someone to be recognized as a saint and a martyr Caridi investigates whether the components of the canonization process now regarded as necessary by the Catholic Church are fundamentally equivalent to those of the Russian Orthodox Church and vice versa while exploring the possibility that the churches use the same terminology and processes but in fundamentally different ways that preclude the acceptance of one church s saints by the other Making Martyrs East and West will appeal to scholars of religion and church history as well as ecumenicists liturgists canonists and those interested in East West ecumenical efforts Historical Sketch of the Church of St. Antony of Padua, Brooklyn, N.Y. Michael P. Heffernan,1897 Saints Herald ,1887 The Making of Saints in Late Antique North Africa Sabine Panzram,Nathalie Klinck,2024 The Making of Saints is a phenomenon of central significance to Christianity since a vision inspired Ambrosius discovered the remains of the martyrs Gervasius and Protasius in 386 AD in Milan In North Africa it seems to have taken on an extremely interesting form that makes Brent D Shaw speaking of the blood of the martyrs as the vital force the kinetic energy powering Christian life in Africa This volume contributes to the productively expanding research field of North African Christianity by providing narrative analyses on the one hand and presenting case studies from an archaeological perspective on the other which allow a comparative perspective of the phenomenon in order to systematically combine them narrative alone did not make a martyr architectural staging too was needed the story made the martyr and the staging made the saint The multidisciplinary approach brings together the most recent results concerning excavations and epigraphy but also an innovative conceptual understanding of text space and last but not least religion in order to examine the social function that the veneration of martyrs had in a longue duree perspective Book of the West Sabine Baring-Gould,1900 Catholic World ,1903 Posthumous Theological Works Emanuel Swedenborg,1914 The Universalist Leader ,1924 Benedictus Dominus. A Course of Meditations for Most Days of the Year Richard Meux Benson,1876 Stalking the Holy Michael W. Higgins,2006 In Stalking the Holy writer and scholar Michael W Higgins explores the Roman Catholic pursuit of saint making the pre eminent Christian model he argues with its elaborate features and arcane cast of players such as the relator and the promotor of the faith He points out that if saints are not actually made so much as recognized by the Church nevertheless this official recognition is a form of manufacture involving motivation expertise and risk I'm a Saint in the Making Lisa M. Hendey, 2020-10-06 God has a special mission for each of us With engaging prose and delightful illustrations I m a Saint in the Making reminds children of their unique call from God to live with mission and love By recounting the highlights of the stories of both well known and newer saints including John Paul II Mary MacKillop Augustus Tolton Teresa of Calcutta Juan Diego and Chiara Badano in relatable lessons the book helps readers learn that there is no one single way to live a life of sanctity I m a Saint in the Making offers simple but impactful suggestions for ways children can offer acts of prayer service and love Resources for parents teachers and caregivers at the end of book provide support for adults as they seek to encourage and accompany their young saints in the making Publishers Weekly ,1990
