Making A Difference For Students At Risk:

Making a Difference for Students at Risk Margaret C. Wang, Maynard C. Reynolds, 1994-11-16 The contributors to this forward looking book examine the various programmes and approaches which have been implemented in inner city schools in the United States to address the special needs of disadvantaged non English speaking gifted and dropout students The book suggests that the primary reason such programmes have been largely unsuccessful is that they have not been properly coordinated Making a Difference for Students at Risk offers thoughtful practical suggestions for new approaches aimed at not only reforming but transforming urban schools in order to achieve the inclusion of all students into general school programmes Problem Solving/decision Making for Social and Academic Success Maurice J. American Doctoral Dissertations ,1998 Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece,Jacquelynne S. Eccles,2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home And schools probably exert more influence on children s development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development. Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom level influences such as teacher student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies. Cross Disciplinary: this volume brings together the divergent perspectives, methods and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines among them educational psychology, developmental psychology, school psychology, social psychology, psychiatry, sociology and educational policy. Chapter Structure: to ensure continuity, chapter authors describe 1 how schooling influences are conceptualized, 2 identify their theoretical and methodological approaches, 3 discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research and 4 highlight implications for future research, practice and policy. Methodologies chapters included in the text feature various methodologies including longitudinal studies, hierarchical linear models, experimental and quasi experimental designs and mixed methods.

What your students need is you. Your fullest, most authentic self. Gravity Goldberg's Teach Like Yourself helps you be the biggest, boldest, and most powerful version of your teacher self. It reminds you why you became a teacher and coaches you to bring your unique gifts and talents into the classroom. The difference between a so-so lesson and one that leaves a lasting impact on students has everything to do with how confident and connected you feel to yourself and your students. Read this book when you need an extra shot of bravery. It's a perfect resource if you want to coach yourself into fulfilling your teacher potential. You are looking for more balance in your teaching and personal life. You want a pep talk for saying no to what doesn't help students and yes to what you know does. You want to grow and deepen your practice without losing yourself in the process. In this her fifth and most personal book, Gravity uses her gifts for developing teacher agency as she invites you to take on five powerful practices: Naming your core beliefs, Viewing teaching as a practice, Building balanced relationships, Driving professional growth, Taking care of your whole self. To support you as you make these five practices lifelong habits, Gravity includes illuminating stories, reflection questions, short videos of advice from her and other educators, a full color Teach Like Yourself Manifesto poster, and a Teach Like Yourself Facebook group moderated by the author.
