Making Of Modern Britain:

The Making of Modern Britain Andrew Marr,2009-10-02 In The Making of Modern Britain Andrew Marr paints a fascinating portrait of life in Britain during the first half of the twentieth century as the country recovered from the grand wreckage of the British Empire Between the death of Queen Victoria and the end of the Second World War the nation was shaken by war and peace The two wars were the worst we had ever known and the episodes of peace among the most turbulent and surprising As the political forum moved from Edwardian smoking rooms to an increasingly democratic Westminster the people of Britain experimented with extreme ideas as they struggled to answer the question How should we live Socialism Fascism Feminism Meanwhile fads such as eugenics vegetarianism and nudism were gripping the nation while the popularity of the music hall soared It was also a time that witnessed the birth of the media as we know it today and the beginnings of the welfare state Beyond trenches flappers and Spitfires this is a story of strange cults and economic madness of revolutionaries and heroic inventors sexual experiments and raucous stage heroines From organic food to drugs nightclubs and celebrities to package holidays crooked bankers to sleazy politicians the echoes of today's Britain ring from almost every page The Making of Modern Britain T.K.. Elizabeth II's reign. When the Queen stepped up her crown in 1953 at the age of twenty five Britain was a very different nation. In this vital history bestselling author Andrew Marr tells the story of modern Britain through the people who shaped it from Sylvia Plath to Elvis Costello, Frank Critchlow to Bob Geldof, Zaha Hadid to James Dyson, David Attenborough to the Beatles. How did our activists, our innovators, our artists, our every kind of mover and shaker define and progress this new Elizabethan era over the last seven decades? How did the seventies shape the eighties, shape the nineties, to incrementally land us where we are today? And where exactly is that? The Making of Modern Britain, Etc. (Third Edition.) It combines for the first time two perspectives with much to say about Britain since the industrial revolution: the history of technology and environmental history. Technologies are modified environments just as nature is to varying extents engineered. Furthermore technologies and our living and non-living environment are both predominant material forms of organisation and self-organisation that surround and make us. Both have changed over time in intersecting ways. Technologies discussed in the collection include bulldozers, submarine cables, automobiles, flood barriers, medical devices, museum displays and biotechnologies. Environments investigated include bogs, cities, farms, places of natural beauty and pollution, land and sea. The book explores this diversity but also offers an integrated framework for understanding these intersections. Making of Modern Britain, 1951-2007 Sally Waller, 2015-09-10 Retaining all the well-loved features, this book is now matched to the new AQA specification and covers AS and A Level content together.
