Love And Law In Europe:

Love and Law in Europe Hanne Petersen, 2018-11-08 First published in 1998 this volume aims to draw attention to an ongoing shift in the perception of law which is now increasingly understood as a cultural and historical phenomenon As other such phenomena like music literature or art it is acknowledged that it is created in a specific environment on which it is dependent for its functioning and interpretation The historical aspects of love in a European and Nordic context are underlined as well as the modern understanding of love and law as incompatible and contrasting concepts Developments within the European Union and especially the relation of the EU to so called third country nationals and immigrants demonstrate that the problematic concerning law and love is not only one of legal philosophy but also of legal and everyday reality The claim that love has been specifically European is discarded as Eurocentrist and the need for more particular emotions and a more pragmatic approach to romantic feelings for a reasonable love is discussed from legal feminist and philosophical perspectives Affective Economies, Neoliberalism, and Governmentality Anne-Marie d'Aoust, 2017-10-02

Advanced capitalism is characterized by a level of symbolic production that not only results in a dematerialization of labor but also increasingly relies on highly emotional components ranging from consumption desire to workforce management Feelings as varied as love anger and desire are integral to neoliberal processes though not in unproblematic and monolithic ways Whereas some accounts decry capitalism's hold on the emotional realm as the commodified search for soul mates through online dating sites or Starbucks promotion of fair trade coffee suggest others counter that emotions represent a privileged site of resistance to market rationality Relying on different case studies ranging from drone strikes the 2008 economic crisis in Ireland and marriage migration management this volume builds on this productive tension between subjection and resistance through the lenses of the concept of governmentality Developed by Michel Foucault governmentality sheds light on the ways in which economic and political life are now being managed through logics of security and economic calculations This volume explores how individuals might become emotionally attached to regimes of power that are detrimental to them how neoliberal processes are concomitant with the valorization of certain emotional dispositions and how affective economies might provide a site of resistance This book was published as a special issue of Global Society Love is the Law William Noble Roundy, 1922 Love and Law, in Two Parts Charles F.
