She kept her songs, they kept so little space,
The covers pleased her:

One bleached from lying in a sunny place,
One marked in circles by a vase of water,
One mended, when a tidy fit had seized her,
And coloured, by her daughter -

So they had waited, till, in widowhood
She found them, looking for something else, and stood

Relearning how each frank submissive chord
Had ushered in

Word after sprawling hyphenated word,
And the unfailing sense of being young
Spread out like a spring-woken tree, wherein
That hidden freshness sung,

That certainty of time laid up in store
As when she played them first. But, even more,

The glare of that much-mentioned brilliance, love,
Broke out, to show

Its bright incipience sailing above,
Still promising to solve, and satisfy,
And set unchangeably in order. So
To pile them back, to cry,

Was hard, without lamely admitting how
It had not done so then, and could not now.

Love Songs For An Age Of Anxiety:

Love Songs for an Age of Anxiety Bradley R. Strahan,1981      New Love Songs for an Age of Anxiety Bradley R. Strahan,1989      There's a Place For Us: The Musical Theatre Works of Leonard Bernstein Helen Smith,2017-07-05

Leonard Bernstein was the quintessential American musician. Through his careers as conductor, pianist, teacher and television personality, he became known across the US and the world. His flamboyance and theatricality made him a favourite with audiences if not with critics. However, he is perhaps best remembered as a composer, particularly of the musical West Side Story and for songs such as America Tonight and Somewhere. Dr Helen Smith takes an in-depth look at all eight of Bernstein's musical theatre works from the early On the Town written by the 26-year-old composer at the start of his career to his second and last opera A Quiet Place in 1983. In between these two pieces, he composed music for Trouble in Tahiti, Wonderful Town, Candide, West Side Story, Mass and 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. These works are analysed and considered against a background of musical and social context, as well as looking at Bernstein's other orchestral, choral and chamber works. One important aspect examined is Bernstein's use of motifs in his theatre compositions, which takes them out of the realms of Broadway and into the sphere of symphonic writing. Smith provides an indispensable overview of the musical theatre works of an eclectic composer and shows what it is that constitutes the Bernstein sound.

,      American Poetic Voice in the Era of Global Broadcast Allison R. Neal, 2026

American Poetic Voice in the Era of Global Broadcast Mass Vernacular examines American poetic voice at a moment when technology was changing the sound of language itself. Situating the poetry of Marianne Moore, W.H. Auden, Frank O'Hara and Adrienne Rich in a broad institutional and technological soundscape, it reveals how poetry intersects with both specific sound technologies like the phonograph, the radio, the telephone and the tape recorder, and a variety of vocal practices and institutions including elocution, instruction, live poetry readings and radio-based forms of cultural diplomacy. Routing their poetry through modern circuits of communication, it argues that twentieth-century poets created a paradoxically intimate and global mass vernacular as they envisioned lyric voices circulating in ways similar to other official and mass voices. In this context, the formal poetic elements that we often associate with the lyric not just voice but also tone, address, apostrophe and prosopopoeia, in fact, reveal a complex history of American cultural consolidation and global distribution. Ultimately, the book restores the sound of American poetic voice to its larger acoustical range, enmeshed in the range of social institutions that simultaneously came to underwrite the nation's global power more generally.
