

MOTIVES

DEFINITION

Motives are internal driving forces that prompt individuals to act in a certain way or pursue particular goals. They are rooted in one's desires, needs, and aspirations, influencing behavior and decision-making. Motives can be influenced by biological, social, emotional, or cognitive factors.

EXAMPLES

- Achievement Motive: This refers to the drive to excel, advance, or accomplish tasks that challenge us.
- Avoidance Motive: This type of motivation propels individuals to steer clear of negative outcomes or unpleasant situations.

Motives For Language Change

Raymond Hickey

Motives For Language Change:

Motives for Language Change Raymond Hickey, 2003-01-16 This specially commissioned volume considers the processes involved in language change and the issues of how they can be modelled and studied. The way languages change offers an insight into the nature of language itself its internal organisation and how it is acquired and used. Accordingly the phenomenon of language change has been approached from a variety of perspectives by linguists of many different orientations. This book originally published in 2003 brings together an international team of leading figures from different areas of linguistics to re-examine some of the central issues in this field and also to discuss new proposals. The volume is arranged into sections including grammaticalisation the typological perspective the social context of language change and contact based explanations. It seeks to cover the subject as a whole bearing in mind its relevance for the general analysis of language and will appeal to a broad international readership

Techniques of Close Reading Barry Brummett, 2018-04-19 Techniques of Close Reading Second Edition helps students gain a deeper understanding of what texts may be saying whether they are written oral visual or mediated. Renowned scholar and professor Barry Brummett explains and explores the various ways to read messages such as speeches cartoons or magazine ads teaching students how to see deeper levels of meaning and to share those insights with others. Students learn techniques for discovering form rhetorical tropes argument and ideologies within texts. New to the Second Edition A new Chapter 6 includes a selection of techniques from each chapter to show students how different techniques may be used together when reading text. A close reading of a group of ads from the insurance company Liberty Mutual offers students an opportunity to apply the techniques to recent texts

Motivation to Learn Multiple Languages in Japan Chika Takahashi, 2022-11-22 This book provides rare insights into motivation among extremely successful learners of English and languages other than English LOTEs through the analysis of a longitudinal study and the examination of the factors involved in becoming multilingual in a non multilingual environment. Based on sixteen interview sessions conducted over the course of nine years while the learners progressed from high school to the world of work this book offers the story of how two learners persist in English LOTE learning. The study illuminates the long term processes through which the interviewees develop ideal English LOTE selves in an environment where multilingualism is not emphasized and where both English and LOTEs can still be described as foreign languages. Educators and researchers will learn from this study which stretches our understanding of motivation beyond the recent theorizing of L2 motivation and contributes to the limited research in long term motivational trajectories and LOTE learning motivation which is particularly scarce in non European contexts. The book will be of interest not only to readers in Japan but also to those in other contexts as it offers an example of successful learners who go beyond the pragmatic and instrumentalist view of language learning to hold a more holistic view thus revealing the factors which can sustain multiple language learning even in foreign language contexts

English Linguistics , 2006 Understanding Motivation and

Emotion Johnmarshall Reeve, 2024-09-09 Comprehensive reference on the nature of motivation and emotion thoroughly updated with the latest research and findings in the field. Understanding Motivation and Emotion seeks to answer perennial questions such as What do people want and How do I motivate self and others through evidence based recommendations that enable readers to solve practical concerns. This newly updated and revised Eighth Edition addresses applied issues speaking more to daily motivational problems and situations such as how to promote high quality motivation in self and others and emphasizes high interest motivational constructs that have been most actively researched in the last three years including grit, mental toughness, resilience, wellbeing, boredom, self concept, identity, and GLP 1 hormones for weight loss. With shorter chapters and one fewer chapter than the previous edition, the goal of this edition is to provide a less overwhelming but also more inviting, interesting, engaging, and satisfying understanding of motivation and emotion. As with previous editions, resources for instructors include an Instructor's Manual and Test Bank featuring discussion questions, activities, central principles, PowerPoint slides, and other tools. Written by an acclaimed professor and researcher in the field, Understanding Motivation and Emotion discusses topics including Biological and psychological needs, extrinsic motivation and internalization, goal setting and goal striving, mindsets, personal control beliefs and the Self and its strivings. Six perennial questions on the nature of emotion, various aspects of emotion, and the importance of individual emotions and feelings. Growth motivation and positive psychology, unconscious motivation, interventions and implicit motives and attitudes. The challenge threat mindset, how to control and regulate emotions and the pros and cons of using money as a motivating factor. Understanding Motivation and Emotion is an essential reference for all professionals and students seeking to understand the nebulous concepts of motivation and emotion and apply their findings in schools, the workplace, clinical settings, healthcare, sports, and their own lives.

Teaching and Researching: Motivation Zoltán Dörnyei, Ema Ushioda, 2013-11-26 Cultivating motivation is crucial to a language learner's success and therefore crucial for the language teacher and researcher to understand. This fully revised edition of a groundbreaking work reflects the dramatic changes the field of motivation research has undergone in recent years, including the impact of language globalisation and various dynamic and relational research methodologies and offers ways in which this research can be put to practical use in the classroom and in research. Key new features and material: A brand new chapter on current socio dynamic and complex systems perspectives; New approaches to motivating students based on the L2 Motivational Self System; Illustrative summaries of qualitative and mixed methods studies; Samples of new self related motivation measures; Providing a clear and comprehensive theory driven account of motivation. Teaching and Researching Motivation examines how theoretical insights can be used in everyday teaching practice and offers practical tips. The final section provides a range of useful resources including relevant websites, key reference works and tried and tested example questionnaires. Written in an accessible style and illustrated with concrete examples, it is an invaluable resource for teachers and researchers alike.
