Motorcycle Challenge:

Women Who Ride the Hoka Hey Abigail Van Vlerah, 2019-08-13 The Hoka Hey Motorcycle Challenge is an endurance ride that takes participants across the United States. Riding 20 hours a day or more for 7-12 days straight, they traverse back roads, brave dangerous conditions, and battle mental and physical exhaustion. Fewer than 10 percent of participants are women. They take on the challenge and they excel. Chronicling the journeys of 14 women who participated in the Hoka Hey Lakota for Let's do it from 2010 to 2013, this feminist cultural analysis relates their often harrowing stories of life on the road and draws comparisons to women in other sports.

Solitary - Without the Confinement Steve Briscoe, 2015-01-27 The Hoka Hey Motorcycle Challenge is an annual endurance ride exceeding eight thousand miles. Those who step out and accept the challenge are a very small percentage of the riding community. Some who attempt it do not succeed. Hoka Hey is a call to action and is an Oglala Lakota Native American Indian term that translates to "It's a good day to die." That doesn't mean those who ride the Challenge are eager to die. What it does mean is that those who ride should live lives of honor, integrity, compassion, and respect so if they fall in battle, they will leave a positive legacy to family and friends. The majority of this book spans twelve days, but in reality, it spans a lifetime of failures, accomplishments, regrets, desires, and fears. I took this Challenge to prove something to myself, but what I discovered was something I did not know was lost.

Sports Splash Carol H. Thomas, 1983 Intended for individuals involved in teaching children to read, parents, teachers, librarians, and reading specialists, this handbook provides activities and resources to supplement programs designed to encourage children's enjoyment of books.

The reading activities presented in this handbook have been developed around a sports theme. The introductory sections are designed to acquaint the user with the interests and abilities at various age levels and to help in setting goals, scheduling, recruiting, and using volunteers and publicizing programs. The major portion of the handbook is made up of ideas and activities related to the following sports categories: individual sports, partner sports, racing sports, team sports, water sports, winter sports, and miscellaneous sports. Within each category are display and exhibit ideas corresponding to the particular type of sport, suggestions for special events, and a variety of activities that may be used individually or in combination. Also included are several pages of camera-ready copy that may be used for flyers, advertising various programs, designs for bookmarks and patterns for mobiles and awards, or to decorate writing or drawing assignments. Concluding each sports category is a list of books, both fiction and nonfiction, as well as journals and nonprint media that may be used in conjunction with the activities already suggested or as
