My Village in Brazil Sonia Gidal, Tim Gidal, 1968 The Brazilian Road Movie Sara Brandellero, 2013-06-15 The innovative collection of essays by a distinguished group of scholars brought together in The Brazilian Road Movie Journeys of Self Discovery represents the first book length publication on Brazil's encounters with and reworkings of one of cinema's most enduringly popular genres Looking for Love in Strange Places: A Memoir for My Stepdaughters Diana Page, 2016-02-18 Back in 1968 Diana Page was going to graduate from the University of Michigan without much hope for marriage or a career She didn't have a boyfriend so a prospective husband was unlikely to materialize before the semester ended and a bachelor's in political science wasn't going to make her easily employable The solution Join the Peace Corps where she could help change the world and possibly meet a guy who shared her values Thus began Diana's adventures Her travels as a journalist and diplomat took her down the dangerous roads of Latin American history from the 1960s into the twenty first century With excerpts from diaries letters and news articles she weaves together a narrative of war and peace presidents and peasants but mostly of ordinary people who teach her about life She also runs into a few extraordinary people along the way Fidel Castro Isabel Peron Pele Jorge Luis Borges and Hilary Clinton among others Looking for Love in Strange Places: A Memoir for My Stepdaughters is a hopeful humorous account of what happens when you seize the day without too many expectations for the future Our Little Brazilian Cousin Mary F. Nixon-Roulet, 2019-12-10 In Our Little Brazilian Cousin Mary F Nixon Roulet crafts an engaging narrative that introduces young readers to the vibrant culture and lush landscapes of Brazil through the eyes of a Brazilian child The book combines elements of adventure and education presenting a vivid portrayal of Brazilian customs wildlife and daily life Nixon Roulet's elegant style balances storytelling with informative passages offering a delightful blend suitable for early readers As part of the beloved Little Cousin series this work contributes to a growing genre of children's literature aimed at fostering cross cultural understanding during the early 20th century Mary F Nixon Roulet an American author and educator was dedicated to providing children with enlightening and entertaining stories Her background in education and passion for cultural exploration profoundly influenced her writing enabling her to create educational literature that resonates with curiosity and adventure Nixon Roulet's commitment to depicting authentic cultural contexts reflects her belief in the importance of fostering global awareness among young readers This charming tale is perfect for children and parents alike inviting readers to discover the wonders of Brazil through the eyes of a relatable character Our Little Brazilian Cousin not only entertains but also educates making it an essential addition to any child's bookshelf igniting a passion for exploration and understanding of diverse cultures Ethnic Capital in a Japanese Brazilian Commune Nobuko Adachi, 2017-02-16 This is a book about the power ethnic capital and how it drives both the economics of and the quest for identity in a Japanese Brazilian commune Adachi tells readers what this small diaspora community can teach us about how life in the trenches looks to those on the outskirts of the exploding transnational world economy This book explores the various strategies locals use to compete with others with whom they are linked locally nationally and globally Through the story of Kubo daily life Adachi offers insights into important aspects of social and linguistic theory as well as explicating how cross border relations become more and more intertwined In a sense Kubo s story with its struggles to maintain its identity even its survival in an increasingly globalized world encapsulates many of the problems now faced by smaller communities around the world be they diasporic or regionally entrenched or ethnically racially or religiously composed Adachi explores the motivations for racial and ethnic boundary making based primarily on values and principles rather than purely physiological features by focusing on Kubo and its marketing of supposedly traditional Japanese cultural values in spite of the commune being located in the interior of Brazil To do this she incorporates notions from linguistic anthropology and sociolinguistics including problems of language maintenance the relationships between language and symbolic power and the intricacies of language and gender Doing so helps theorize the tensions between hybridity and purity entailed in the complexities of identity dynamics
