Roads and Ruins Paul Baxa, 2010-01-01 In the 1930s the Italian Fascist regime profoundly changed the landscape of Rome's historic centre demolishing buildings and displacing thousands of Romans in order to display the ruins of the pre-Christian Roman Empire This transformation is commonly interpreted as a failed attempt to harmonize urban planning with Fascism's ideological exaltation of the Roman Empire Roads and Ruins argues that the chaotic Fascist cityscape filled with traffic and crumbling ruins was in fact a reflection of the landscape of the First World War In the radical interwar transformation of Roman space Paul Baxa finds the embodiment of the Fascist exaltation of speed and destruction with both roads and ruins defining the cultural impulses at the heart of the movement Drawing on a wide variety of sources including war diaries memoirs paintings films and government archives Roads and Ruins is a richly textured study that offers an original perspective on a well known story Mysterious Ruins Natalie Jane Prior, 1994 This book one of the True Stories series takes a close look at the lost cities of the world and the treasures that are part of legend but never found

Oklahoma Treasures and Treasure Tales Steve Wilson, 1989-05-01 Contains stories some true some legendary about caches of lost treasure Ambient History Kamila Baraniecka-Olszewska, 2025-09-30 Ambient History presents the role urban fabric plays in constructing the wartime history of Warsaw It focuses on history embedded in matter and details the practices followed by municipal institutions artists and historical reenactors who pull history out of the background through their actions The book offers a new perspective on the material history of the city It presents the concept of ambient history history hidden in the background in the landscape waiting to be utilised by individuals coming into contact with the fabric of the city It draws on anthropological considerations of history which embrace non academic methods of conceptualising the past and processes of democratising history The book has two principal objectives One is to give theoretical grounding to the term ambient history which facilitates the conceptualisation of material history and the role experiencing it plays in the process of constructing history The other is to try and determine the limits of the heuristic potential of posthumanist reflection on materiality in reference to research focused on the making of history Therefore the book is valuable reading for
