SERIES: NAPOLEON'S CAMPAIGNS IN ITALY: 1796-1797 and 1800 R. G. Burton,2020-02-25 The Italian campaigns were fought principally in Northern Italy between the French Revolutionary Army and a coalition of Austria Russia Piedmont Sardinia and a number of other Italian states The second phase of the war in Italy began in 1799 as part of the War of the Second Coalition with Russian forces participating in the campaign      Napoleon's Campaigns in Italy — 1796-1797 and 1800 Lt.-Colonel Reginald G. Burton,2012-05-01 The immortal words Not tonight Josephine are probably apocryphal but in 1796 Napoleon had more pressing concerns than his amorous wife he had been handed command of the Republican forces in Italy His men were clothed in rags unpaid and hungry Napoleon set to work with a passion bending his senior commanders to his will despite their seniority in both age and rank raising morale and promising the troops what they craved the opportunity for victory and loot Many historians regard Napoleon s first campaign to be his finest using all his genius to outmanoeuvre his numerous opponents by dividing them hard marching and even harder fighting to destroy Austrian power in Northern Italy In his wake his forces garnered so many victories it is hard to disagree Mondovi Lodi Lonato Montenotte Arcole and finally Rivoli After an abortive expedition to Egypt during which time the ruling powers in France had squandered their gains from previous engagement Napoleon was appointed as head of state in the garb of First Consul Using all of his powers of organization he formulated a brilliant campaign plan to expel the ascendant Austrians from Italy he swept through the Alps in the middle of winter behind the enemy forces After a bloody engagement at Marengo which hung in the balance until the arrival of French reinforcements the Austrians were forced out of Italy and would sue for peace soon thereafter Another excellent volume in the Special Campaigns series produced around the turn of the 20th century by serving or recently retired British and Indian Army officers Brig Gen Burton wrote a number of books on Napoleon s campaigns for the series and was an acknowledged expert on the era applying his expert eye to the lightning moves of the Emperor contrasted by the lumbering vacillations of his opponents Author Brig General Reginald G Burton Indian Army 1864 1923      Napoleon's Campaigns in Italy Philip Haythornthwaite,2012-05-20 In January 1794 the French Army of Italy was commanded by General Dumerbion and he acknowledged a great debt to his 25 year old commander of artillery Napoleon Bonaparte The French Revolution had resulted in major changes in the military system conscription created a national army and new tactics and initiatives allowed an officer of such promise as Napoleon to rise quickly through the ranks By 1796 he was the general commanding the French in Italy and at the conclusion of fourteen months campaigning he was the decisive military personality of his age Philip Haythornthwaite examines Napoleon s campaigns in Italy and the uniforms of his soldiers are illustrated in eight colour plates by Richard Hook      Napoleon's Campaigns in Italy 1796-1797 And 1800 Reginald George Burton,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free

Burton,1912 Napoleon's Campaigns in Italy 1796-1797 and 1800 Reginald George Burton,1953 Napoleon's Italian Campaigns Frederick C. Schneid,2002-03-30 The French Revolutionary and Napoleonic wars raged in Italy for 23 years In that time no fewer than eight campaigns involving hundred of thousands of troops were mounted in the Italian peninsula as France and Austria struggled over this secondary but still vitally important theater of war As Frederick Schneid demonstrates in this groundbreaking work control of Italy was rightly seen by Napoleon as an important means of applying strategic pressure on the Austrians while simultaneously providing security for France's vulnerable southern flank As the first in depth consideration of the struggle for strategically key region this book places the Italian campaigns into their proper historical context Beginning with a geo strategic overview of the Italian peninsula and its place in French and Austrian calculations Schneid moves on to a careful consideration of the major campaigns that began in 1805 1809 and 1813 These include studies of the battles at Caldiero Wagram and Mincio The book also provides appendices with complete orders of battle for each campaign Napoleon's Campaigns in Italy 1796-1797 and 1800 Reginald George Burton,1912
