Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson, 2020-01-29 In Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson places familiar often politicized questions about the crisis of African American marriage in conversation with a rich cultural archive that includes fiction by Terry McMillan and Sister Souljah music by Anita Baker and films such as The Best Man Seeking to move beyond simple assessments of marriage as good or bad for African Americans Henderson critically examines popular and influential late twentieth and early twenty first century texts alongside legislation such as the 1996 Defense of Marriage Act and the Welfare Reform Act which masked true sources of inequality with crisis laden myths about African American family formation Using an interdisciplinary approach to highlight the influence of law politics and culture on marriage representations and practices Henderson reveals how their kinship veils and unveils the fiction in political policy as well as the complicated political stakes of fictional and cultural texts Providing a new opportunity to grapple with old questions including who can be a citizen a wife and marriageable Veil and Vow makes clear just how deeply marriage still matters in African American culture

Women of Color and Hair Bias in the Work Environment Francis, Kula A., Clarke, Anna M., 2023-11-09 Professional women of color identify with various natural Black hairstyles including braids dread locs twists and other natural coiled styles Black women who work in professional settings have historically encountered negative stares remarks and biases They tend to be stereotyped on their level of professionalism and competency if they choose not to conform to mainstream hairstyles Women wearing Black hairstyles are often perceived as less beautiful and less professional than those who wear Eurocentric hairstyles Professional Black women are often challenged in these situations where they must decide how to manage their identity in the work environment Too often professional Black women apply and interview for positions where their natural hairstyle becomes the topic of interest If given the opportunity for employment subtle references may be made about their hairstyles which suggests such hairstyles are not in alignment with the professional climate of an organization This type of pressure makes Black women feel forced to conform to Eurocentric hairstyles These expectations lead to feelings of social inadequacy hurt and discouragement of individuals in their workplace The apprehensions with hair acceptance are even more concerning when considering that the notion of straight groomed hair has been largely expected not only by Whites but also by many people of color as well Women of Color and Hair Bias in the Work Environment explores the experiences of professional women of color who have had encountered feelings of uncertainty self consciousness or differing treatment and or discrimination because of their natural hairstyle choices The intent is to shine a light on the challenges professional women of color face and how these experiences impact their hiring and or work environment Covering topics such as hairstyle empowerment ethics of hair bias and diversity of hair this book serves as an invaluable resource for educators social workers psychologists organizational leadership business professionals and more This book also allows women to be encouraged by stories of professional women who have overcome the societal burdens placed on natural hair Sister Style Nadia E. Brown, Danielle Casarez Lemi, 2021 They don't think I'm viable because I'm a Black woman with natural hair and no husband This comment was made by Stacey Abrams shortly before the 2018 Democratic primary after she became the first Black woman to win a majority party's nomination for governor Abrams sentiment reflects the wider environment for Black women in politics in which racist and sexist cultural ideas have long led Black women to be demeaned and fetishized for their physical appearance In Sister Style Nadia E Brown and Danielle Casarez Lemi argue that Black women's political experience and the way that voters evaluate them is shaped overtly by their skin tone and hair texture with hair being a particular point of scrutiny They ask what the politics of appearance for Black women mean for Black women politicians and Black voters and how expectations about self presentation differ for Black women versus Black men White men and White women Black women running for office face pressure often from campaign consultants and even close colleagues to change their style in order to look more like White women However as this book shows Black women candidates and elected officials react differently to these pressures depending on factors like age and incumbency Moreover Brown and Lemi delve into the ways in which Black voters react to Black female candidates based on appearance They base their argument in part on focus groups with Black women candidates and elected officials and show that there are generational differences that determine what sorts of styles Black women choose to adopt and to what extent they change their physical appearance based on external expectations McCall's, 1930 Mammon and Co Edward Frederic Benson, 1899 Going Buck Wild Nina Foxx, 2009-01-09 Let's go crazy Successful Claudia Barrett seems to be doing it all right She's a vice president at her firm with an engagement ring on her finger from the man who's loved her since high school So what if she's been wearing it for five years and her classic expensive dull everyday outfits make her look like someone fatally allergic to a good time What exactly is wrong with the girl She s bored for one thing She s thirty years old and in a rut and best friend Pam thinks it s time Claudia got her freak on It s time to inject a little action adventure and good old fashioned lust into this sister s life But practicing what Pam is preaching and going buck wild could have some serious consequences especially when tall dark and dangerous Cody is added to the mix Nappily Ever After Trisha R.
