Herskovits,1970    Melville J. Herskovits and the Racial Politics of Knowledge Jerry Gershenson,2004-01-01 Melville J Herskovits and the Racial Politics of Knowledgeis the first full scale biography of the trailblazing anthropologist of African and African American cultures Born into a world of racial hierarchy Melville J Herskovits 1895 1963 employed physical anthropology and ethnography to undermine racist and hierarchical ways of thinking about humanity and to underscore the value of cultural diversity His research in West Africa the West Indies and South America documented the far reaching influence of African cultures in the Americas He founded the first major interdisciplinary American program in African studies in 1948 at Northwestern University and his controversial classic The Myth of the Negro Past delineated African cultural influences on American blacks and showcased the vibrancy of African American culture He also helped forge the concept of cultural relativism particularly in his book Man and His Works While Herskovits promoted African and African American studies he criticized some activist black scholars most notably Carter G Woodson and W E B Du Bois whom he considered propagandists because of their social reform orientation After World War II Herskovits became an outspoken public figure advocating African independence and attacking American policymakers who treated Africa as an object of Cold War strategy Drawing extensively on Herskovits's private papers and published works Jerry Gershenhorn's biography recognizes Herskovits's many contributions and discusses the complex consequences of his conclusions methodologies and relations with African American scholars Boasians at War Anthony Q. Hazard,

Jr., 2020-04-20 This volume seeks to recover a specific historical moment within the tradition of anthropologists trained in the United States under Franz Boas arguably the father of modern American anthropology Focusing on Boasians Ashley Montagu Margaret Mead Melville Herskovits and Ruth Benedict Anthony Hazard highlights the extent to which the Boasians offer historicized explanations of racism that move beyond a quest to reshape only the discipline Boasian war work pointed to the histories of chattel slavery and colonialism to theorize not just race but the emergence of racism as both systemic and interpersonal The realities of race that continue to plague the United States have direct ties to the anthropological work of the figures examined here particularly within the context of the 20th century black freedom struggle Ultimately Boasians at War offers a detailed glimpse of the long troubled history of the concept of race along with the real life realities of racism that have carried on despite the harnessing of scientific knowledge to combat both

Achieving Blackness

Algernon Austin, 2006-04-10 Achieving Blackness offers an important examination of the complexities of race and ethnicity in the context of black nationalist movements in the United States By examining the rise of the Nation of Islam the Black Power Movement of the 1960s and 1970s and the Afrocentric era of the 1980s through 1990s Austin shows how theories of race have shaped ideas about the meaning of Blackness within different time periods of the twentieth century Achieving Blackness provides both a fascinating history of Blackness and a theoretically challenging understanding of race and ethnicity Austin traces how Blackness was defined by cultural ideas social practices and shared identities as well as shaped in response to the social and historical conditions at different moments in American history Analyzing black public opinion on black nationalism and its relationship with class Austin challenges the commonly held assumption that black nationalism is a lower class phenomenon In a refreshing and final move he makes a compelling argument for rethinking contemporary theories of race away from the current fascination with physical difference which he contends sweeps race back to its misconceived biological underpinnings Achieving Blackness is a wonderful contribution to the sociology of race and African American Studies

The New Black Gods Edward E. Curtis IV,Danielle Brune Sigler,2009-04-23 Taking the influential work of Arthur Huff Fauset as a starting point to break down the false dichotomy that exists between mainstream and marginal a new generation of scholars offers fresh ideas for understanding the religious expressions of African Americans in the United States Fauset s 1944 classic Black Gods of the Metropolis launched original methods and theories for thinking about African American religions as modern cosmopolitan and democratic The essays in this collection show the diversity of African American religion in the wake of the Great Migration and consider the full field of African American religion from Pentecostalism to Black Judaism Black Islam and Father Divine s Peace Mission Movement As a whole they create a dynamic humanistic and thoroughly interdisciplinary understanding of African American religious history and life This book is essential reading for anyone who studies the African American experience

Americans from Africa Peter I. Rose,2016-03-23 Americans from Africa seeks to convey varying perspectives on the Black Experience in the United States and its controversial history This volume Slavery and Its Aftermath deals with four major issues the extent of African influences on the lives of those enslaved and brought to America beginning with an essay on Africanisms in Everyday Life by Melville J Herskovits the impact of slavery on personality and social structure sometimes called The Elkins Debate similarities and differences in life for African Americans in the South and in the North and matters of community class and family including the full text of the Moynihan Report and several pointed critiques In addition to the commentaries by and on the works of Herskovits Elkins and Daniel Patrick Moynihan other contributors to Volume I include Kenneth B Clark Mina Caulfield Davis E Franklin Edwards Eugene Genovese Ulf Hannerz Charles S Johnson Leroi Jones and Charles Keil The second volume Old Memories New Moods contains essays on the roots of black protest the background and character of the Civil Rights Movement interpretations of the impact and significance of Black Power and varied views on changing self images of being African American

Training of trainers ,1980 The Confrontation: Black Power, Anti-semitism, and the Myth of Integration Max Geltman,1970 Study of intergroup relations between the Black and Jewish minority groups in the USA examines government policy in respect of social integration sociological aspects of housing problems poverty discrimination etc and recommends that jews should separate themselves at every level from participation in negro affairs

Phylon ,1970 The Myth of Black Ethnicity Richard A. Davis,1997-06-12 In the late 1800s W E B Dubois asked what it really means to be black in America He raised the spectre of divided loyalties and the blurring of individuality that he called Double Consciousness This volume offers an insight into this dilemma of identity by asking the seemingly rhetorical question what does O J Simpson have in common with the participants in the Million Man March the jury that set him free the people who inexplicably cheered his acquittal the prosecuting attorney the black Muslim Louis Farrakhan or with his own children Each case involves cross cutting currents of age sex religion race ethnicity class and ideology But what they share among themselves and with the rest of the nation is the firm conviction that they are black
