Myths Of Modern Art:

Contemporary Art and Classical Myth Jennie Hirsh, 2017-07-05 Contemporary art is deeply engaged with the subject of classical myth. Yet within the literature on contemporary art little has been said about this provocative relationship. Composed of fourteen original essays, Contemporary Art and Classical Myth addresses this scholarly gap, exploring and in large part establishing the multifaceted intersection of contemporary art and classical myth. Moving beyond the notion of art as illustration, the essays assembled here adopt a range of methodological frameworks from iconography to deconstruction and do so across an impressive range of artists and objects. Francis Alÿs, Ghada Amer, Wim Delvoye, Luciano Fabro, Joanna Frueh, Felix Gonzales-Torres, Duane Hanson, Yayoi Kusama, Roy Lichtenstein, Kara Walker, and an iconic photograph by Richard Drew, subsequently entitled The Falling Man. Arranged so as to highlight both thematic and structural affinities, these essays manifest various aspects of the link between contemporary art and classical myth while offering novel insights into the artists and myths under consideration. Some essays concentrate on single works as they relate to specific myths while others take a broader approach, calling on myth as a means of grappling with dominant trends in contemporary art.

The Originality of the Avant-Garde and Other Modernist Myths Rosalind E. Krauss, 1986-07-09

Co-founder and co-editor of October magazine, a veteran of Artforum of the 1960s and early 1970s, Rosalind Krauss has presided over and shared in the major formulation of the theory of postmodernism. In this challenging collection of fifteen essays, most of which originally appeared in October, she explores the ways in which the break in style that produced postmodernism has forced a change in our various understandings of twentieth-century art, beginning with the almost mythic idea of the avant-garde. Krauss uses the analytical tools of semiology, structuralism, and poststructuralism to reveal new meanings in the visual arts and to critique the way other prominent practitioners of art and literary history write about art. In two sections, "Modernist Myths" and "Toward Postmodernism," her essays range from the problem of the grid in painting and the unity of Giacometti's sculpture to the works of Jackson Pollock, Sol Lewitt, and Richard Serra, and observations about major trends in contemporary literary criticism.

Myths of the Norsemen Hélène Adeline Guerber, 1914 The prime importance of the rude fragments of poetry preserved in early Icelandic literature will now be disputed by none but there has been until recent times an extraordinary indifference to the wealth of religious tradition and mythical lore which they contain The long neglect of these precious records of our heathen ancestors is not the fault of the material in which all that survives of their religious beliefs is enshrined for it may safely be asserted that the Edda is as rich in the essentials of national romance and race imagination rugged though it be as the more graceful and idyllic mythology of the South Neither is it due to anything weak in the conception of the deities themselves for although they may not rise to great spiritual heights foremost students of Icelandic literature agree that they stand out rude and massive as the Scandinavian mountains They exhibit a spirit of victory superior to brute force superior to mere matter a spirit that fights and overcomes Even were some part of the matter of their myths taken from others yet the Norsemen have given their gods a noble upright great spirit and placed them upon a high level that is all their own In fact
