Werner, 2017-12-18 This is an annotated version of the book 1 contains an updated biography of the author at the end of the book for a better understanding of the text 2 This book has been checked and corrected for spelling errors The chief literary sources of Chinese myths are the Li tai sh n hsient ung chien in thirty two volumes the Sh n hsien lieh chuan in eight volumes the F ng sh n yen i in eight volumes and the Sou sh n chi in ten volumes In writing the following pages I have translated or paraphrased largely from these works I have also consulted and at times quoted from the excellent volumes on Chinese Superstitions by P re Henri Dor comprised in the valuable series Vari t s Sinologiques published by the Catholic Mission Press at Shanghai The native works contained in the Ssu K u Ch an Shu one of the few public libraries in Peking have proved useful for purposes of reference My heartiest thanks are due to my good friend Mr Mu Hs eh hs n a scholar of wide learning and generous disposition for having kindly allowed me to use his very large and useful library of Chinese books The late Dr G E Morrison also until he sold it to a Japanese baron was good enough to let me consult his extensive collection of foreign works relating to China whenever I wished but owing to the fact that so very little work has been done in Chinese mythology by Western writers I found it better in dealing with this subject to go direct to the original Chinese texts I am indebted to Professor H A Giles and to his publishers Messrs Kelly and Walsh Shanghai for permission to reprint from Strange Stories from a Chinese Studio the fox legends given in Chapter XV This is so far as I know the only monograph on Chinese mythology in any non Chinese language Nor do the native works include any scientific analysis or philosophical treatment of their myths My aim after summarizing the sociology of the Chinese as a prerequisite to the understanding of their ideas and sentiments and dealing as fully as possible consistently with limitations of space limitations which have necessitated the presentation of a very large and intricate topic in a highly compressed form with the philosophy of the subject has been to set forth in English dress those myths which may be regarded as the accredited representatives of Chinese mythology those which live in the minds of the people and are referred to most frequently in their literature not those which are merely diverting without being typical or instructive in short a true not a distorted image
