Naked Faquir:

"Naked Faquir" Robert Bernays, 1932 Indian Traffic Parama Roy, 2023-09-01 The continual unpredictable and often violent traffic between identities in colonial and postcolonial India is the focus of Parama Roy's stimulating and original book. Mimicry has been commonly recognized as an important colonial model of bourgeois elite subject formation and Roy examines its place in the exchanges between South Asian and British Hindu and Muslim female and male and subaltern and elite actors. Roy draws on a variety of sources: religious texts, novels, travelogues, colonial archival documents, and films, making her book genuinely interdisciplinary. She explores the ways in which questions of originality and impersonation function not just for western or westernized subjects but across a range of identities. For example, Roy considers the Englishman's fascination with going native, an Irishwoman's assumption of Hindu feminine celibacy, Gandhi's impersonation of femininity, and a Muslim actress's emulation of a Hindu Indian mother goddess. Familiar works by Richard Burton and Kipling are given fresh treatment, as are topics such as the muscular Hinduism of Swami Vivekananda. Indian Traffic demonstrates that questions of originality and impersonation are in the forefront of both the colonial and the nationalist discourses of South Asia and are central to the conceptual identity of South Asian postcolonial theory itself. The continual unpredictable and often violent traffic between identities in colonial and postcolonial India is the focus of Parama Roy's stimulating and original book. Mimicry has been commonly recognized as an important colonial model of bourgeois elite.

The Works of Thomas Love Peacock: Critical & other essays. 1926 Thomas Love Peacock, 1926 Traveling India in the Age of Gandhi Jeffrey N. Dupée, 2008-04-15 Traveling India in the Age of Gandhi is a study of armchair travel writers who journeyed to India during what has often been termed the Age of Gandhi, placed between 1914-1948. Most of the travel writers surveyed understood this era to be a unique time in world history in India and elsewhere on the globe. The lingering trauma of World War I, the rise of radical state ideologies in Russia, Italy, Japan, and Germany, world-wide depression in the 1930s, along with a host of other unsettling political, cultural, and technological realities, revealed a world of bewildering complexity and uncertainty. For many of the travel writers surveyed in this work, India was the main drama in a shifting global landscape. Moreover, many viewed it as the ultimate travel experience, a journey that tested one's capacity to fully engage the earth's most compelling forms of human diversity and suffering. Although a few notable figures are included, most of the authors in the study constitute a breed of largely forgotten travel writers. This work is an attempt to extract the core of their observations, impressions, and conclusions concerning what they saw and experienced, particularly concerning Indian aspirations for independence and India as the world's most exotic human landscape.
