Name Crazy:

Montana Place Names from Alzada to Zortman Rich Aarstad, Ellen Arguimbau, Ellen Baumler, Charlene L. Porsild, Brian Shovers, 2009 Among Montana's most enduring legacies are the names assigned to its geographic features and places found on the state map. As long as humans have inhabited Montana, they have named places. While the past two centuries have changed the way people live in Montana, the names given to some rivers, mountain ranges, cities, and towns have persisted, while others have changed with time. Naming Montana explores the origins of more than 1,000 Montana place names, drawing upon the knowledge of Montana Historical Society historians and the expertise of local historians from across the state. This new publication includes both geographic features, selected historic sites listed on the National Register of Historic Places, historic photographs, and maps. The authors' extensive research illuminates the stories behind the names of places that we call home.

Confronting the Impact of Alcohol Labeling and Marketing on Native American Health and Culture United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Children, Youth, and Families, 1992 A congressional hearing examined the effects of alcohol labeling and marketing on Native American health and culture. The focus of the hearing was on Crazy Horse malt liquor, a product named for the spiritual and political leader of the Native American Sioux. Following opening remarks by presiding committee chairwoman Patricia Schroeder, the brewery in question by letter objected to not being allowed to participate in the hearing and denied the allegation of targeting Native Americans in marketing its product. A fact sheet provides information on the following issues: 1 alcohol as a major cause of disease, injury, and death among Native Americans; 2 the high rate of alcohol use among Native American youth and problems associated with alcohol use, such as driving under the influence, increased sexual behavior, and a high suicide rate among Native Americans; 3 the importance of cultural traditions in alcohol prevention and treatment programs for Native American youth; 4 the practice of alcohol advertisements targeting high-risk groups; and 5 public and court response to the practice of targeted advertising. Also included are testimonies and prepared statements addressing the topics covered in the fact sheet, made by members of the U.S. Congress and state legislatures, federal health officials, tribal leaders, and health professionals.
