A stimulating and coherent account of literary modernism in England which emphasizes the artistic achievements of particular figures and offers detailed readings of key works by the most significant modernist authors whose work transformed early twentieth century English literary culture. Provides in-depth discussion of intellectual debates, the material conditions of literary production and dissemination and the physical locations in which writers lived and worked. The first large scale book to provide a systematic overview of modernism as it developed in England from the late 1890s through to the late 1930s Modernist Literature and European Identity Birgit Van Puymbroeck, 2020-05-13

Modernist Literature and European Identity examines how European and non-European authors debated the idea of Europe in the first half of the twentieth century. It shifts the focus from European modernism to modernist Europe and shows how the notion of Europe was constructed in a variety of modernist texts. Authors such as Ford Madox Ford, T S Eliot, Gertrude Stein, Aimé Cézanne and Nancy Cunard each developed their own notion of Europe. They engaged in transnational networks and experimented with new forms of writing supporting or challenging a European ideal. Building on insights gained from global modernism and network theory this book suggests that rather than defining Europe through a set of core principles we may also regard it as an open or weak construct a crossroads where different authors and views converged and collided.
