Narrating The Past Fiction And Historiography In Postwar Spain:

Narrating the Past David K. Herzberger, 1995-05-24 The relationship between fiction and historiography in Francoist Spain 1939-1975 is a contentious one. The intricacies of this relationship in which fiction works to subvert the regime's authority to write the past are the focus of David K. Herzberger's book. The narrative and rhetorical strategies of historical discourse figure in both the fiction and historiography of postwar Spain. Herzberger analyzes these strategies identifying the structures and vocabularies they use to frame the past and endow it with particular meanings. He shows how Francoist historians sought to affirm the historical necessity of Franco by linking the regime to a heroic and Christian past while several types of postwar fiction such as social realism, the novel of memory and postmodern novels created a voice of opposition to this practice. Focusing on the concept of writing history that these opposing strategies convey, Herzberger discloses the layering of truth and meaning that lies at the heart of postwar Spanish narrative from the early 1940s to the fall of Franco. His study clearly reveals how the novel in postwar Spain became a crucial form of dissent from the past as it was conceived and used by the State. Making a decisive intervention in the debate about the ways in which narration determines both the meaning and truth of history and fiction, Narrating the Past will be of special interest to students and scholars of the politics, history and literature of twentieth century Spain.

Post-totalitarian Spanish Fiction Robert C. Spires, 1996 This study records an epistemic shift away from logocentric and totalizing approaches to reality by analyzing the links between the novelistic strategies used by Spanish writers from 1975 to 1989 and recent international events and theoretical trends in science, mathematics, communication studies and art.

Post-war Spanish Women Novelists and the Recuperation of Historical Memory Patricia O'Byrne, 2014 Reconstructs through testimonial literature the repression of women during the Franco years and recovers the writings of some of the forgotten post war women novelists The passing of Spain's Law of Historical Memory 2007 marked the official recognition of the need to confront a violent and painful past Article 2 makes reference to specific groups who experienced discrimination including religious and ethnic communities no reference is made to the gender repression endured by women enforced by a patriarchal regime through its legislation and policies with the active support of the Church and the Women's Section of the Falange Revised narratives of the period that have emerged in recent decades have raised issues in relation to the reliability and selectivity of memory and its ongoing mediation by intervening events While documentary sources of the period are prejudicial cotemporaneous post war testimonial novels provide an invaluable resource in reconstructing the past particularly the novels of women writers This book draws on their narrative to reconstruct the female experience of the post war years and in particular on the writings of novelists whose work has undeservedly been disregarded Neither the experience of women under Franco nor the narrative of women writers of the period should be forgotten Patricia O Byrne lectures in Hispanic Studies and Comparative Literature at Dublin City University

Spanish Women Writers and Spain's Civil War

Maryellen Bieder, Roberta Johnson, 2016-12-01 The Spanish Civil War 1936-1939 pitted conservative forces including the army the Church the Falange fascist party landowners and industrial capitalists against the Republic installed in 1931 and supported by intellectuals the petite bourgeoisie many campesinos farm laborers and the urban proletariat Provoking heated passions on both sides the Civil War soon became an international phenomenon that inspired a number of literary works reflecting the impact of the war on foreign and national writers While the literature of the period has been the subject of scholarship women's literary production has not been studied as a body of work in the same way that literature by men has been and its unique features have not been examined Addressing this lacuna in literary studies this volume provides fresh perspectives on well known women writers as well as less studied ones whose works take the Spanish Civil War as a theme The authors represented in this collection reflect a wide range of political positions Writers such as María Zambrano Merc Rodoreda and Josefina Aldecoa were clearly aligned with the Republic whereas others including Mercedes Salisachs and Liberata Masoliver sympathized with the Nationalists Most however are situated in a more ambiguous political space although the ethics and character portraits that emerge in their works might suggest Republican sympathies Taken together the essays are an important contribution to scholarship on literature inspired by this pivotal point in Spanish history

Intertextual Pursuits Hal L. Boudreau, 1998 This book brings together twelve essays that attest to the continuing viability of intertextuality a widely recognized by product of a cosmic readjustment in thinking about the nature and boundaries of texts All the contributors to this collection are well versed in the theoretical implications of intertextuality Their essays give repeated evidence that intertextuality is itself dynamically intertextual and that it is as endlessly fruitful as its myriad applications The essays further demonstrate that whether theoretically in fashion or out of it whether seen as rhetorical exercises ideological statements or philosophical meditations intertextual pursuits remain the paramount adventure in the literary critical enterprise Beyond The Back Room Marian Womack,2011 Klappentext This collection of essays examines current trends in scholarly research on Spanish author Carmen Mart n Gaite 1925 2000 It concentrates on the least explored areas of Mart n Gaite s oeuvre such as her collage artwork the relationship between image and text in her work and her close relationship with themes such as genre writing the fairy tale and textual physical notions of space as well as her personal theories on orality and narration As we pass the tenth anniversary of her death Mart n Gaite continues to be an increasing focus of study as scholars start to identify and comprehend the breadth and scope of her work The essays in the volume complement previous studies of Mart n Gaite s major works from the 1960s and 1970s by focusing largely on her later novels together with in depth analysis of the manuscripts and artistic materials that have been made available since her death The Imagined Island Pedro L. San Miguel,2006-05-18 In a landmark study of history power and identity in the Caribbean Pedro L San Miguel examines the historiography of Hispaniola the West Indian island shared by Haiti and the Dominican Republic He argues that the national identities of and often the tense relations between citizens of these two nations are the result of imaginary contrasts between the two nations drawn by historians intellectuals and writers Covering five centuries and key intellectual figures from each country San Miguel bridges literature history and ethnography to locate the origins of racial ethnic and national identity on the island He finds that Haiti was often portrayed by Dominicans as the other first as a utopian slave society then as a barbaric state and enemy to the Dominican Republic Although most of the Dominican population is mulatto and black Dominican citizens tended to emphasize their Spanish white roots essentially silencing the political voice of the Dominican majority San Miguel argues This pioneering work in Caribbean and Latin American historiography originally published in Puerto Rico in 1997 is now available in English for the first time

History and Popular Culture in the Novels of Antonio Munoz Molina Olga López Valero Colbert,1998 Fiction as Counter-history Carmiña Palerm,2001 Spanishness in the Spanish Novel and Cinema of the 20th - 21st Century

Cristina Sánchez Conejero,2007 Explores the general concept of Spanishness as all things related to Spain specifically as the multiple meanings of Spanishness and the different ways of being Spanish are depicted in 20th 21st century literary and cinematic fiction of Spain This book also represents a call for a re evaluation of what being Spanish means

Romance and Exemplarity in Post-war Spanish Women's Narratives Nino Kebadze,2009 A reading of women s post war literary representations in terms of exemplarity The effects of General Francisco Franco s authoritarian rule 1939 1975 on the production and reception of cultural texts can be gauged by the silence that now surrounds them This is especially true of works which enjoyed considerable popularity when first published Most of the novels in question belong to the sentimental genre known as novela rosa whose authors mostly women and heroines Academe has consistently treated as literary pariahs This volume represents the first serious effort to question the categories used to assess the value and meaning of texts previously presumed to be devoid of both It does so by bringing to the fore the operative premise of Francoist cultural politics wherein fictional works have the power to mould individual character and conduct Narratives by Luisa Mar a Linares Concha Linares Becerra Carmen de Icaza and Mar a Mercedes Ortoll are thus examined in terms of the effects that they were expected to have on their readers and the constraints that such expectations placed on the works production and reception The result is a paradox while the study of women s bestselling novels is by definition a study of the constraints that shape them careful reading reveals the limitations of those selfsame constraints NINO KEBADZE is an Assistant Professor in the Hispanic Studies Department of the University of Massachusetts Boston

The Later Poetics of Juan Marsé

Marla J. Williams,2001

Silence in the Novels of Carmen Martín Gaite Adrián M. García,2000 This book explores how silences in Carmen Mart n Gaite s novels affect narrative communication and the reader Focusing on Entre visillos 1957 El cuarto de atr s 1978 and Nubosidad variable 1992 this study shows how silences inhere in Mart n Gaite s narrative style especially in the distinctive ways that her novels create interlocution and communicate feminist messages It also probes how silences in the author s narrative relate to historical and social conditions in Spain and to various literary periods and genres Silence as a literary term can be ambiguous because critics give it many different meanings and often without specifying types of silences Accordingly the book typologizes narrative silences and their roles in narrative communication This study reveals that in Mart n Gaite s novels women s silences become over time more a means for creative expression and personal growth than a result of oppression
