Narration In Light Studies In Cinematic Point Of View:

Narration in Light George M. Wilson, 1986 As both theory and criticism Wilson's achievement in this book is substantial and important Alexander Sesonske Film Quarterly Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Jinhee Choi, 2009-02-09 Designed for classroom use this authoritative anthology presents key selections from the best contemporary work in philosophy of film The featured essays have been specially chosen for their clarity philosophical depth and consonance with the current movement towards cognitive film theory Eight sections with introductions cover topics such as the nature of film film as art documentary cinema narration and emotion in film film criticism and film's relation to knowledge and morality Issues addressed include the objectivity of documentary films fear of movie monsters and moral questions surrounding the viewing of pornography Replete with examples and discussion of moving pictures throughout Narrative Comprehension and Film Edward Branigan, 2013-06-17 Narrative is one of the ways we organise and understand the world It is found everywhere not only in films and books but also in everyday conversations and in the nonfictional discourses of journalists historians educators psychologists attorneys and many others Edward Branigan presents a telling exploration of the basic concepts of narrative theory and its relation to film and literary analysis bringing together theories from linguistics and cognitive science and applying them to the screen Individual analyses of classical narratives form the basis of a complex study of every aspect of filmic fiction exploring for example subjectivity in Lady in the Lake multiplicity in Letter from an Unknown Woman post modernism and documentary in Sans Soleil Routledge Encyclopedia of Narrative Theory David Herman, Manfred Jahn, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010-06-10 The past several decades have seen an explosion of interest in narrative with this multifaceted object of inquiry becoming a central concern in a wide range of disciplinary fields and research contexts As accounts of what happened to particular people in particular circumstances and with specific consequences stories have come to be viewed as a basic human strategy for coming to terms with time process and change However the very predominance of narrative as a focus of interest across multiple disciplines makes it imperative for scholars teachers and students to have access to a comprehensive reference resource Projecting a Camera Edward Branigan, 2013-08-21 In Projecting a Camera film theorist Edward Branigan offers a groundbreaking approach to understanding film theory Why for example does a camera move What does a camera know And when does it know it What is the camera's relation to the subject during long static shots What happens when the screen is blank Through a wide ranging engagement with Wittgenstein and theorists of film he offers one of the most fully developed understandings of the ways in which the camera operates in film With its thorough grounding in the philosophy of spectatorship and narrative Projecting a Camera takes the study of film to a new level With the care and precision that he brought to Narrative Comprehension and Film Edward Branigan maps the ways in which we must understand the role of the camera the meaning of the frame the role of the spectator and other key components of film viewing By analyzing how we think discuss and marvel about the films we see

Projecting a Camera offers insights rich in implications for our understanding of film and film studies The Dynamic Frame Patrick Keating, 2019-02-19 The camera's movement in a film may seem straightforward or merely technical Yet skillfully deployed pans tilts dollies cranes and zooms can express the emotions of a character convey attitude and irony or even challenge an ideological stance In The Dynamic Frame Patrick Keating offers an innovative history of the aesthetics of the camera that examines how camera movement shaped the classical Hollywood style In careful readings of dozens of films including Sunrise The Grapes of Wrath Rear Window Sunset Boulevard and Touch of Evil Keating explores how major figures such as F W Murnau Orson Welles and Alfred Hitchcock used camera movement to enrich their stories and deepen their themes Balancing close analysis with a broader poetics of camera movement Keating uses archival research to chronicle the technological breakthroughs and the changing division of labor that allowed for new possibilities as well as the shifting political and cultural contexts that inspired filmmakers to use technology in new ways An original history of film techniques and aesthetics The Dynamic Frame shows that the classical Hollywood camera moves not to imitate the actions of an omniscient observer but rather to produce the interplay of concealment and revelation that is an essential part of the exchange between film and viewer Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990-10 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities

Rethinking Fictional Narrators Nicholas Jeremiah Diehl, 2010 Journal of Film and Video, 1986 African American Review, 2004 As the official publication of the Division on Black American Literature and Culture of the Modern Language Association of America African American review promotes an exchange among writers and scholars in the arts humanities and social sciences who hold diverse perspectives of African American literature and culture The Publishers Weekly, 1988 Mind the Gap Barbara Postema, 2010 Abstract begins This dissertation argues that the gap which according to narrative theory is a characteristic of all fictional narrative in comics works at all levels of signification Gaps or absences signify in the drawn image the page layout the sequence and image text combinations as well as in the narrative Comics rely on the minimizing and absence of information rather than representation in detail The notion of the gap as an inherent part of the abstraction that is typical of the comics image is established The Journal of Philosophy, 1987
