Narrative Modes In Czech Literature:

Narrative Modes in Czech Literature Lubomir Dolezel, 1973-12-15 In this study of the study of the linguistic approach to narrative structures the author examines the question of point of view in fiction drawing examples from Czech literature. He applies the methods of structural linguistics and literary studies as developed by the Prague Linguistic School and the modern methodology of semiotics and text theory. This approach, widely used in Czechoslovakia and elsewhere in Europe, is not as well known as it should be in the English speaking world. The essays may be read without any knowledge of the Czech language or Czech literary history. All Czech examples and materials are translated into English, preserving traits of the original texts which are relevant for structural analysis. The original Czech of all examples appears in an appendix. While the examples serve as documentation for theoretical statements, they also serve to familiarize the English speaking reader with some of the major works of Czech fiction, especially those of Komensk, Comenius, Rais, apek, Vanura, Pujmanov, Olbracht, and Kundera. These works demonstrate the continuous bond between Czech fiction and European literary traditions and offer original and profound insights into the cultural, social, and political experience of the Czech nation. Of particular interest to specialists in Slavic studies, general linguistics, poetics, and text theory, and to students of general and comparative literature, Narrative Modes in Czech Literature deals with a significant problem of poetics and makes an original constructive contribution to the theory of literature in the English language. Narrative Modes in Czech Literature Lubomir Dolezel,

Handbook of Diachronic Narratology Peter Hühn, John Pier, Wolf Schmid, 2023-07-24 This handbook brings together 42 contributions by leading narratologists devoted to the study of narrative devices in European literatures from antiquity to the present. Each entry examines the use of a specific narrative device in one or two national literatures across the ages, whether in successive or distant periods of time. Through the analysis of representative texts in a range of European languages, the authors compellingly trace the continuities and evolution of storytelling devices as well as their culture-specific manifestations. In response to Monika Fludernik's 2003 call for a diachronization of narratology, this new handbook complements existing synchronic approaches that tend to be ahistorical in their outlook and departs from postclassical narratologies that often prioritize thematic and ideological concerns. A new direction in narrative theory, diachronic narratology explores previously overlooked questions from the evolution of free indirect speech from the Middle Ages to the present to how changes in narrative sequence encoded the shift from a sacred to a secular worldview in early modern Romance literatures. An invaluable new resource for literary theorists, historians, comparatists, discourse analysts, and linguists.
