Hinkley, 1998-01-01 3rd Wisconsin Infantry A Narrative of Service with the Third Wisconsin Infantry Julian Hinkley, 2017-07-14 The author of this volume was born at Vernon Connecticut on March 12 1838 of a long line of New England ancestry he was sixth in order of descent from Governor Thomas Hinkley of Plymouth Colony Coming to Wisconsin in his eleventh year Julian grew to young manhood on his father s farm at Waupun and in Portage County In 1858 our author left the farm and started life for himself teaching school in winter and working as a carpenter each summer On April 19 1861 Mr Hinkley enlisted in the Waupun Light Guard for three months But the services of the organization were not accepted for that short term by the State military authorities so on May 8 they were proffered and accepted for the war and the organization became Company E of the Third Wisconsin Infantry Hinkley was at the organization appointed First Sergeant but on February 6 1862 he was commissioned Second Lieutenant of his company became First Lieutenant on November 1 following and on May 4 1863 took command of the Company as Captain He continued to serve the Third Wisconsin until its final discharge and payment in Madison on August 26 1865 but during the last few months of this period was the acting Major of the Regiment Since the war Major Hinkley has been largely engaged in erecting public buildings and has a wide acquaintance throughout Northeast Wisconsin The Commission is much pleased at this opportunity to publish Major Hinkley s Narrative The book has only in part been written from memory It has been made up from several excellent sources 1 A manuscript diary kept from day to day or week to week by Mr Hinkley during the years of his service 2 several contemporary letters written by him either to the local press of his section of the State or to relatives and friends at home and lastly 3 a manuscript narrative written by the author several years after the war for the edification of his children The work of amalgamating these diverse materials has fallen to the lot of the editorial department of the Commission the result however has been passed upon in detail by Major Hinkley and in its present continuous form accepted by him as his final narrative This method of compilation has secured a manuscript possessing a contemporaneous flavor and accuracy not usual with reminiscences The Commissioners feel that the book is an interesting and valuable contribution to the literature of the war being the view point of a company commander in one of the most active of Wisconsin regiments throughout the entire period of the struggle R G T Wisconsin Historical Library September 1912 Contents Wisconsin History Commission Editor s Preface Service with the Third Wisconsin Infantry Enlistment and training Departure for the front Service in Maryland On the trail of Stonewall Jackson The tables turned At Cedar Mountain The Army retreats northward Moving toward the enemy Battle of South Mountain Battle of Antietam In winter quarters Chancellorsville A cavalry expedition Gettysburg On draft riot duty With the Army of the Cumberland The Third veteranizes Reorganizing Lincoln County Opening of the Atlanta campaign Wounded and in hospital The siege of Atlanta The march to the sea In front of Savannah In Savannah Marching northward Peace Homeward
