

Narrative Gerontology and the Life Course Perspective

Narrative Gerontology

4. Narratives do not provide us with any absolute truths. They explain part of a larger story.

Life Course Perspective

D. No story, and, therefore, no life is more or less important than any other.

Narrative Gerontology:

Narrative Gerontology Gary M. Kenyon, Phillip G. Clark, Brian De Vries, 2001 Narrative gerontology focuses on the possibilities of the life as story metaphor in the field of aging Effectively integrating theory research and practice this volume emphasizes the ways narrative approaches such as guided autobiography and life review can be incorporated into practice The goal is to improve the quality of care and the quality of life for older adults especially those with chronic illness and those near the end of their lives Professionals within the fields of gerontology social work counseling family therapy nursing medicine and occupational therapy will all find valuable insights on how to incorporate narrative approaches into their work

Book jacket Narrative Gerontology in Research and Practice Kate de Medeiros, 2013-12-19 What is meant by narrative How can one elicit a narrative or analyze it in research How can narrative work best be facilitated among older adults This is the only text to provide comprehensive information about the applications of narrative approaches in community and long term settings writing in the virtual world and such individual work as journaling or poetry The book explores the theories of narratives across many disciplines research practices and analytical strategies and applications in work with older adults It has been written by a prominent researcher of the narrative construction of self in old age whose studies have been funded by the NIH the Brookdale Foundation and the Alzheimer's Association among other related achievements The book brings together a unique blend of interdisciplinary perspectives and practices not found in other books on life stories autobiography and or narrative approaches to understanding one's experiences Specifically it focuses on the myriad theoretical underpinnings of narrative provides a developmental history of narrative use in gerontology and details various ways to use narratives in a variety of research settings Each chapter includes step by step guides on who to analyze and report on and how to write up narrative data It also discusses ways to incorporate narratives in varied practice settings such as writing workshops in retirement communities individual writing projects and others Key Features Offers a hands on research tool that guides the reader from theory to research to practice Describes the theoretical underpinnings and practical applications of narrative with older adults Illustrates how narrative gerontology is fundamentally different in practice than narrative research with younger participants Addresses the breadth of available narrative methods and how to apply them in a research settings Designed for use in qualitative methods service learning and gerontological research courses

Storying Later Life Gary Kenyon, Ernst Bohlmeijer, William L. Randall, 2010-12-20 In its brief but vigorous history gerontology has spawned a broadening range of specializations One of the newest of such specializations is narrative gerontology so named for its emphasis on the biographical or inside dimensions of the experience of aging Telling stories about our world our relationships and ourselves is fundamental to how we make meaning Everything from our history to our religion and our memories to our emotions is linked to the tales we tell ourselves and others about where we have come from and where we are going They are central to who we are The biographical side of human life is every bit as critical to fathom

as the biological side if we seek a more balanced positive and optimistic perspective on what aging is about if we would honor the dignity and complexity the humanity and uniqueness of the lives of older persons no matter what their health or economic standing In this respect a narrative approach is particularly suited to the exploration of such topics as meaning spirituality and wisdom and the connections they share This volume reflects a selection of new directions and insights and constitutes a general broadening and deepening of narrative gerontology exploring its implications for theory and research in the field of aging and for the quality of life of older adults themselves Such deepening indicates a greater refinement of thought method and intervention The evolution of narrative gerontology is also evidenced by a significant increase in the number of faculty and graduate students engaged in research in this area as well as by increasing collaboration among researchers practitioners and administrators in applying narrative insights to contexts such as long term care indeed healthcare in general These initiatives have given rise to the phrase narrative care as core care

Handbook of Theories of Aging, Second Edition Merrill Silverstein PhD, Vern L. Bengtson PhD, Norella Putney PhD, Daphna Gans PhD, 2008-10-27

The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging

A Life Course Approach to Healthy Ageing Diana Kuh, Rachel Cooper, Rebecca Hardy, Marcus Richards, Yoav Ben-Shlomo, 2014 This title investigates the lifetime determinants of healthy ageing and their implications for policy and practice bringing together authorities in ageing research and knowledge transfer from across the world

Narratives of Life Heike Hartung, Roberta Maierhofer, 2009 The prospect of increasing longevity has turned aging and old age into a topic of concern in Western societies The discourse of age and the proliferation of narrative in contemporary media culture both transgress disciplinary boundaries Addressing the narratives of life from different disciplinary angles this volume aims to explore the scope of a narrative gerontology Aging and the stories that are told about it or from within are transnational and transcultural phenomena While aging is thus a universal process attention is also drawn to the categories of difference that it evokes Historical social and cultural differences as well as gender

Pastoral Care Dr. Karen D. Scheib, 2016-02-16 Christian pastoral care is a narrative ecclesial theological practice NET As a narrative practice pastoral care attends to the inseparable interconnection between our own lifestories others stories the larger cultural stories and God s story As a ministry of the church pastoral care is an ecclesial practice that derives its motivation purpose and identity from the larger mission of the church to bear witness to and embody God s mission of love that extends beyond the church for the transformation of the world As a theological practice pastoral care is grounded in God s love story God s profound love for humankind heals our brokenness when human love fails and invites us into an ongoing process of growth in love of God self and neighbor Intended for those who provide care with and on behalf of religious communities author Karen Scheib focuses on listening and restorying practices occurring in the context and setting of congregations By coauthoring narratives that promote healing and growth in love pastoral caregivers become cocreators and companions who help others revise and construct life stories reshaped by the grace of God What Karen Scheib has done in this book is to reposition pastoral care as a theological activity performed in the context of the church She draws deeply upon her Wesleyan theological heritage upon an understanding of life in its fullness as growth in love and grace and upon a communion ecclesiology undergirded by a communal understanding of the Trinitarian life of God Thus grounded she envisions pastoral care first as a rhythm of the life of the whole church and secondarily as a work of trained pastors In her vision pastoral care is rescued from a narrow understanding of it as exceptional acts of intervention performed only in moments of dire crisis Instead it becomes a daily practice of pastoral care an attending in love to the stories of others and a listening for ways God is already present in a life story Solidly theological grounded in the life of the church and eminently teachable Karen Scheib has given us a great gift in this book from the Foreword Thomas G Long Bandy Professor of Preaching Emeritus Candler School of Theology Emory University Atlanta GA In a wonderfully engaging reflective and useful way Karen Scheib captures something absolutely essential to pastoral care and yet often overlooked the utter centrality of storytelling listening the power of stories to heal and their vital connection to bigger stories told within religious communities This book is a real milestone reclaiming the importance of narrative knowing and grounding care not only in community but also within a comprehensive theological framework Bonnie J Miller McLemore E Rhodes and Leona B Carpenter Professor of Religion Psychology and Culture The Divinity School and Graduate Department of Religion Vanderbilt University Divinity School Nashville TN Implementing narrative personality and therapy theories and anchored in ecclesiology and Wesleyan theology NET Karen Scheib s book advances a long awaited and holistic approach to pastoral care Her NET approach presents the embodiment of pastoral care by emphasizing both narrative and paradigmatic knowing proposes the subjectivity of our stories in pastoral care by pointing out the interchangeability between us and our stories as subject and object and underscores the dynamic process of pastoral care through the interconnection of the storyteller listener and context Scheib s image of story companion contributes to the field as a new paradigm of pastoral care and promises to be a significant resource in generating hope and growth in love for both pastoral caregiver and receiver Angella Son Associate Professor Drew University Madison NJ Pastoral theologian Scheib describes a narrative ecclesial and theological approach for listening to people s life stories in such a way as to engender spiritual formation and growth in love Scheib clarifies the connections between caring conversations and Christian theology Clear and accessible prose as well as helpful exercises and discussion starters make this a fine teaching text The Christian Century Sept 29 2016
