The African Diaspora Isidore Okpewho, Carole Boyce Davies, Ali Al'Amin Mazrui, 2001-11-09 This book examines the character of New World black cultures and their relationships with the plural societies within which they function. This volume seeks a balanced look at the fate of the African presence in Western society as well as insights into the sources of periodic conflict between blacks and others. Editor African American Literary Theory Winston Napier, 2000-07 The first volume to expound African American literary theory from the 1920s to present. African American Literary Theory A Reader is the first volume to document the central texts and arguments in African American literary theory from the 1920s through the present. As the volume progresses chronologically from the rise of a black aesthetic criticism through the Black Arts Movement, feminism, structuralism and poststructuralism and the rise of queer theory, it focuses on the key arguments, themes and debates in each period. By constantly bringing attention to the larger political and cultural issues at stake in the interpretation of literary texts, the critics gathered here have contributed mightily to the prominence and popularity of African American literature in this country and abroad. African American Literary Theory provides a unique historical analysis of how these thinkers have shaped literary theory and literature at large and will be an indispensable text for the study of African American intellectual culture. Contributors include Sandra Adell Michael Awkward Houston A Baker Jr Hazel V Carby, Barbara Christian, W E B DuBois, Ann duCille, Ralph Ellison, Henry Louis Gates Jr, Addison Gayle Jr, Carolyn F Gerald, Evelyn Hammonds, Phillip Brian Harper, Mae Gwendolyn Henderson, Stephen E Henderson, Karla F C Holloway, Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, LeRoi Jones, Amiri Baraka, Joyce A Joyce, Alain Locke, Wahneema Lubiano, Deborah E McDowell, Harryette Mullen, Larry Neal, Charles I Nero, Robert F Reid, Pharr Marlon B Ross, George S Schuyler, Barbara Smith, Valerie Smith, Hortense J Spillers, Sherley Anne Williams and Richard Wright. African American Authors, 1745-1945 Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2000-01-30 There has been a dramatic resurgence of interest in early African American writing. Since the accidental rediscovery and republication of Harriet Wilson's Our Nig in 1983, the works of dozens of 19th and early 20th century black writers have been recovered and reprinted. There is now a significant revival of interest in the Harlem Renaissance of the 1920s and in the last decade alone several major assessments of 18th and 19th century African American literature have been published. Early African American literature builds on a strong oral tradition of songs, folktales and sermons. Slave narratives began to appear during the late 18th and early 19th century and later writers began to engage a variety of themes in diverse genres. A central objective of this reference book is to provide a wide ranging introduction to the first 200 years of African American literature. Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 78 black writers active between 1745 and 1945. Among these writers are essayists, novelists, short story writers, poets, playwrights and autobiographers. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a biography, a discussion of major works and themes, an overview of the author's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies. The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography.

Indigeneity, Globalization, and African Literature Tanure Ojaide, 2015-10-07 Literature remains one of the few disciplines that reflect the experiences sensibility worldview and living realities of its people Contemporary African literature captures the African experience in history and politics in a multiplicity of ways Politics itself has come to intersect and impact on most if not all aspects of the African reality This relationship of literature with African people's lives and condition forms the setting of this study Tanure Ojaide's Indigeneity Globalization and African Literature Personally Speaking belongs with a well established tradition of personal reflections on literature by African creative writer critics Ojaide's contribution brings to the table the perspective of what is now recognized as a second generation writer a poet and a concerned citizen of Nigeria's Niger Delta area

Research in African Literatures, 2000 Vol 1 spring 1970 include A Bibliography of American doctoral dissertations on African literature compiled by Nancy J Schmidt Masters of the Drum Robert E. Fox, 1995-09-14 Taking the drum as the central metaphor Fox English Southern Illinois U Carbondale explores the pan Atlantic currents of African culture The seven essays include such topics as African American literature and criticism neo hoodoo the poetry of Bob Kaufman and Caribbean women's writings Also included are interviews with Somali novelist Nuruddin Farah and Jamaican poet and painter Lorna Goodison Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Pan-African Aesthetics Lena Dallywater, 2025-11-17 Pan Africanism has been a global project aiming to unite people of African descent since the late nineteenth century Notions of Black and African arts and aesthetics have functioned as a bridge and brought positive identification across national ethnic or class divides even when rifts have appeared unbridgeable They were able to mediate Africanness positively both prior to and during the struggle for liberation and at times when the dream of a unified African nation died This study explores central aspects proponents and opponents of Pan African aesthetics and shows that conceptualizations of Black African and Afrocentric aesthetics form a kaleidoscope that is constantly changing Based on historical sources in depth reading and qualitative interviews the study illustrates what happened to the discussions in the postcolonial era The story unfolds along the life paths and approaches of four intellectuals from Anglophone and Francophone Africa Their framings can tell us more about the underlying themes contestations and contradictions of emancipatory projects in the mid twentieth century and show us that the study of Pan Africanism is not yet exhausted neither is the history of the idea and the movement

African-American Literature Paul Q. Tilden, 2003 Having its origins in the slave narratives and the folktales transmitted orally during that period the literature of the African American has been rich and varied Beginning with the first published work of fiction Clotel Or the President's Daughter in 1853 continuing under the influence of W E B Du Bois during the first part of this century and reaching a flowering during the Harlem Renaissance major contributions have been made to American literature Today African American writers such as Toni Morrison Alex Haley and Maya Angelou are recognised as among the most significant and popular authors in this country This new book presents an important overview of African American literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography with easy access provided by title subject and author indexes    The Black Press in the Middle West, 1865-1985 Henry Lewis Suggs,1996

This is the first comprehensive examination of the Black press in the Middle West It rewrites the history of the Middle West and proves that Blacks were not only present but that they helped to shape the history character and political agenda of the region

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003-12    Of Dreams Deferred, Dead Or Alive Femi Ojo Ade,1996-06-30 This is the first collection of essays in which African critics present an in depth study of African American writers These prominent critics from different African countries and backgrounds bring an important perspective to the complex relationship between African Americans and Africa Through provocative readings of prominent African American writers the contributors provide insights into contemporary African American issues This collection offers a rare opportunity to view African opinions on what it means to be African American

Negritude and Literary Criticism Belinda E Jack,1996-02-13 The first thorough study to consider the history of the criticism of Negro African literature in French exploring the complex relationship between how literatures are named and how they are evaluated    The Problem of Embodiment in Early African American Narrative Katherine Fishburn,1997-06-30 Offering a revolutionary way of reading 19th century slave narratives Fishburn seeks to recover the philosophical foundations of African American literature Underlying slave narrative is an expression of the problem of physical embodiment that is the dualistic thinking of the mind body division Fishburn s work uncovers the tension between needing to acknowledge the fact of human embodiment and wishing to overcome its consequences in a racist society One of the strongest points made by this pioneering work is the controversial claim that these slave narratives offer one of the most telling if largely overlooked pre Heideggerian critiques of liberal humanism ever attempted in the West

The Concise Oxford Companion to African American Literature William L. Andrews,Frances Smith Foster,Trudier Harris,2001-02-15 A breathtaking achievement this Concise Companion is a suitable crown to the astonishing production in African American literature and criticism that has swept over American literary studies in the last two decades It offers an enormous range of writers from Sojourner Truth to Frederick Douglass from Zora Neale Hurston to Ralph Ellison and from Toni Morrison to August Wilson It contains entries on major works including synopses of novels such as Harriet Jacobs s Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Richard Wright s Native Son and Lorraine Hansberry s A Raisin in the Sun It also incorporates information on literary characters such as Bigger Thomas Coffin Ed Johnson Kunta Kinte Sula Peace as well as on character types such as Aunt Jemima Brer Rabbit John Henry Stackolee and the trickster Icons of black culture are addressed including vivid details about the lives of Muhammad Ali John Coltrane Marcus Garvey Jackie Robinson John Brown and Harriet Tubman Here too are general articles on poetry fiction and drama on autobiography slave narratives Sunday School literature and oratory as well as on a wide spectrum of related topics Compact yet thorough this handy volume gathers works from a vast array of sources from the black periodical press to women s clubs making it one of the most substantial guides available on the growing exciting world of African American literature    The Rules of the Game Alan G.

Cobley,1997-01-30 Five case studies explore the policy of social activity for blacks during the era of apartheid They are African sport and the struggle for urban space the politics of reading literacy consciousness and the development of library services for blacks maids and mesdames contested objectives in social welfare programs for African women social drinking drunkenness and temperance among the African middle class and socialization subordination and the rise of the social work profession among blacks Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR      African Studies Review ,1996      African American Review ,1997      African Horizons Christine Loflin,1998-01-26 As non African writers have created images of Africa that suit their own needs African writers have countered these images with African landscapes that emphasize the landmarks and horizons that are significant for Africans In this volume Loflin explores the importance of landscape description in African fiction arguing that discussion of landscape can reveal the geographic religious political and social boundaries of the text In her analysis Loflin examines themes of nationalism and ethnic identity showing how the question of landscape is further complicated when writers in forced or voluntary exile from their native countries reconfigure their relationship to the landscape of Africa      ALA Bulletin ,1996      The Critical Response to Ishmael Reed Bruce Allen Dick,Pavel Zemliansky,1999-02-28 Ishmael Reed has emerged as one of the most innovative and controversial novelists in contemporary African American literature By focusing on his nine published novels this volume charts the critical response to his works over time The book is organized by decade with each section containing book reviews and articles Beginning with material from the 1960s it explores Reed s concern with artistic freedom and examines the evolution of his Neo HooDoo aesthetic which combines satire and parody comedy and fantasy African and African American religion and myth history film and other forms of popular culture It celebrates and at times criticizes how Reed s fiction defies popular academic conceptions of what American writers particularly black American writers ought to be The book also includes a substantial introduction a transcript of a recent conversation in which Reed discusses his novels in progress and an extensive bibliography Since the publication of his first novel The Free Lance Pallbearers in 1967 Ishmael Reed has emerged as one of the most innovative and controversial African American writers Despite his belief that he and other black male artists have been misrepresented and virtually ignored in the press he has received more critical attention than almost any other contemporary African American male author The majority of this criticism has studied Reed s literary innovations and what he once called his Neo HooDoo aesthetic which draws on satire and parody comedy and fantasy African and African American religion and myth history film and various other elements of popular culture Since the 1970s many articles and reviews have looked at his commitment to multiculturalism while others have examined his views on gender and how they help define his position in the literary world This volume chronicles the critical response to Reed s works Organized by decades the book centers primarily on Reed s nine published novels It contains book reviews and essays devoted to these novels as well as a recent interview in which Reed discusses his works in progress including Making a Killing a novel about the O J Simpson trial While Reed has attained success as a poet and social critic his novels continue to attract most of the attention These include a science fiction fantasy a western two mysteries a neo slave narrative two political parodies a trickster tale about contemporary race and gender issues and a satire on modern academia The reaction to his works varies from ridicule and condemnation to respect and high praise A substantial introduction overviews the response to his works and a chronology lists the major events in his life and career The volume concludes with extensive bibliographical information
