Rosse, 2007 Materials science includes those parts of chemistry and physics that deal with the properties of materials It encompasses four classes of materials the study of each of which may be considered a separate field metals ceramics polymers and composites Materials science is often referred to as materials science and engineering because it has many applications Industrial applications of materials science include processing techniques casting rolling welding ion implantation crystal growth thin film deposition sintering glassblowing etc analytical techniques electron microscopy x ray diffraction calorimetry nuclear microscopy HEFIB etc materials design and cost benefit tradeoffs in industrial production of materials This book presents new research directions in a very new field which happens to be an old field as well

D. Pye, V. D. Fréchet, N. J. Kreidl, 2012-12-06 Boron Oxide plays a key role in numerous glasses of high technological importance yet its role in glass structure is far from clear Indeed in recent years there have been serious challenges to previous structure concepts for both crystalline and glassy borates These challenges were sufficient to warrant a re examination of the structure of borate glasses using the most powerful tools currently available To provide a suitable forum for this undertaking a four day conference on Boron in Glass and Glass Ceramics was convened at Alfred University June 3 8 1977 to review the best scientific thinking on structure and to debate conflicting views and discuss properties and applications of borate glasses This conference was also the first in a New University series on Glass Science to be rotated among Alfred University The Pennsylvania State University Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and the University of Missouri Rolla The present volume represents the proceedings of the first conference in this series The volume begins with a review of the remarkable contribution of Jan Krogh Moe to the understanding of the structure of Borate glasses This review authored by Professor N J Kreidl concludes by dedicating the proceedings of this conference as a Krogh Moe Fest schrift The volume continues with a historical review by D L Griscom originally prepared for circulation to the contributors prior to the conference An Epilogue to the opening chapter brings the survey up to date in light of the conference papers
