Origin Of Modern Humans:

The Origins of Modern Humans Fred H. Smith, James C. Ahern, 2013-07-09 This update to the award winning The Origins of Modern Humans A World Survey of the Fossil Evidence covers the most accepted common theories concerning the emergence of modern Homo sapiens adding fresh insight from top young scholars on the key new discoveries of the past 25 years The Origins of Modern Humans Biology Reconsidered allows field leaders to discuss and assess the assemblage of hominid fossil material in each region of the world during the Pleistocene epoch It features new fossil and molecular evidence such as the evolutionary inferences drawn from assessments of modern humans and large segments of the Neandertal genome It also addresses the impact of digital imagery and the more sophisticated morphometrics that have entered the analytical fray since 1984 Beginning with a thoughtful introduction by the authors on modern human origins the book offers such insightful chapter contributions as Africa The Cradle of Modern People Crossroads of the Old World Late Hominin Evolution in Western Asia A River Runs through It Modern Human Origins in East Asia Perspectives on the Origins of Modern Australians Modern Human Origins in Central Europe The Makers of the Early Upper Paleolithic in Western Eurasia Neandertal Craniofacial Growth and Development and Its Relevance for Modern Human Origins Energetics and the Origin of Modern Humans Understanding Human Cranial Variation in Light of Modern Human Origins The Relevance of Archaic Genomes to Modern Human Origins The Process of Modern Human Origins The Evolutionary and Demographic Changes Giving Rise to Modern Humans The Paleobiology of Modern Human Emergence Elegant and thought provoking The Origins of Modern Humans Biology Reconsidered is an ideal read for students grad students and professionals in human evolution and paleoanthropology

Origins of Anatomically Modern Humans Doris V. Nitecki, Matthew H. Nitecki, 2013-11-11 This volume is based on the Field Museum of Natural History Spring Systematics Symposium held in Chicago on May 11 1991 The financial support of Ray and Jean Auel and of the Field Museum is gratefully acknowledged When we teach or write we present only those elements that support our arguments We avoid all weak points of our debate and all the uncertainties of our models Thus we offer hypotheses as facts Multiauthored books like ours which simultaneously advocate and question diverse views avoid the pitfalls and lessen the impact of indoctrination In this volume we analyze the anthropological and biological disagreements and the positions taken on the origins of modern humans point out difficulties with the interpretations and suggest that the concept of the human origin can be explained only when we first attempt to define Homo sapiens sapiens One of the major controversies in physical anthropology concerns the geographic origin of anatomically modern humans It is undisputed due to the extensive research of the Leakeys and their colleagues that the family Hominidae originated in Africa but the geographic origin of Homo sapiens sapiens is less concretely accepted Two schools of thought exist on this topic

The Origin of Modern Humans Roger Lewin, 1998 Modern Humans John F. Hoffecker, 2017-10-31 Modern Humans is a vivid account of the most recent and perhaps the most important phase of human evolution the appearance of anatomically modern people Homo sapiens in Africa less than half a million years ago and their later spread throughout the world Leaving no stone unturned John F Hoffecker demonstrates that Homo sapiens represents a major transition in the evolution of living systems in terms of fundamental changes in the role of non genetic information Modern Humans synthesizes recent findings from genetics including the rapidly growing body of ancient DNA the human fossil record and archaeology relating to the African origin and global dispersal of anatomically modern people Hoffecker places humans in the broad context of the evolution of life emphasizing the critical role of genetic and non genetic forms of information in living systems as well as how changes in the storage transmission and translation of information underlie major transitions in evolution He also draws on information and complexity theory to explain the emergence of Homo sapiens in Africa several hundred thousand years ago and the rapid and unprecedented spread of our species into a variety of environments in Australia and Eurasia including the Arctic and Beringia beginning between 75 000 and 60 000 years ago This magisterial work will appeal to all with an interest in the ever fascinating field of human evolution

The Origin of Modern Humans Roger Lewin, 1998-01-01 The tools used to unearth the facts of our prehistoric past have not always been tangible Each fossil discovery and new methods of analysis is met with an avalanche of debate alternate interpretations and the refutation of competing theories This text is a concise and provocative look at some answers to the question Where did we come from The Origin of Modern Humans and the Impact of Chronometric Dating Martin Jim Aitken, Chris B. Stringer, Paul A. Mellars, 2014-07-14 This volume of papers delivered to The Royal Society in February of 1992 explores the debate over the single center hypothesis of human origins versus multi regional evolution Over the last five years there has been growing support for a recent Out of Africa origin of modern humans based on fresh interpretations of the palaeoanthropological and archaeological evidence new applications of physical dating techniques to important sites and a greatly increased genetic data base on recent human variation and its geographical patterning But there has also been a parallel growth of doubts about interpretations of the new evidence from some workers This book provides a review of recent progress and allows some of these doubts to be aired and discussed In addition to the editors the contributors are O Bar Yosef A M Bowcock P Brown H J Deacon L L Cavalli Sforza J D Clark R Gr n J J Hublin A A Lin G H Miller J L Mountain H P Schwarcz N J Shackleton F H Smith and M Stoneking Originally published in 1993 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Origin And Past Of Modern Humans As Viewed From Dna, The: Proceedings Of The Workshop On The Origin And Past Of Homo Sapiens Sapiens As Viewed From Dna - Theoretical Approach Sydney Brenner, Kazuro Hanihara, 1995-05-09 This book surveys the history of automatic vehicle guidance based on the processing of visual information starting from the very first projects worldwide up to the latest developments It also presents the ARGO prototype vehicle developed at the University of Parma Italy and describes its equipment setup and performance ARGO has been equipped with cameras and processing systems to drive autonomously in real traffic conditions The complete system has been tested on public roads during a tour in which ARGO drove itself along the Italian highway network for more than 2000 km A detailed analysis of this trip is also included

Human Evolution Roger Lewin, 2004-09-17 The brief length and focused coverage of Human Evolution An Illustrated Introduction have made this best selling textbook the ideal complement to any biology or anthropology course in which human evolution is taught The text places human evolution in the context of humans as animals while also showing the physical context of human evolution including climate change and the impact of extinctions Chapter introductions numerous drawings and photographs and an essential glossary all add to the accessibility of this text The fifth edition has been thoroughly updated to include coverage of the latest discoveries and perspectives including New early hominid fossils from Africa and Georgia and their implications New archaeological evidence from Africa on the origin of modern humans Updated coverage of prehistoric art including new sites New perspectives on molecular evidence and their implications for human population history An Instructor manual CD ROM for this title is available Please contact our Higher Education team at HigherEducation wiley com for more information

The Human Revolution Paul Mellars, Chris Stringer, 1989

Modern Human Origins C. Loring Brace, 1992

The Origins of Human Society Peter Bogucki, 2000-01-04 The Origins of Human Society traces the development of human culture from its origins over 2 million years ago to the emergence of literate civilization In addition to a global coverage of prehistoric life the book pays specific attention to the origins and dispersal of anatomically modern humans the development of symbolic expression the transition from mobile foraging bands to sedentary households early agriculture and its consequences the emergence of social differentiation and hereditary ranking and the prehistoric roots of ancient states and empires The Blackwell History of the World Series The goal of this ambitious series is to provide an accessible source of knowledge about the entire human past for every curious person in every part of the world It will comprise some two dozen volumes of which some provide synoptic views of the history of particular regions while others consider the world as a whole during a particular period of time The volumes are narrative in form giving balanced attention to social and cultural history in the broadest sense as well as to institutional development and political change Each provides a systematic account of a very large subject but they are also both imaginative and interpretative The Series is intended to be accessible to the widest possible readership and the accessibility of its volumes is matched by the style of presentation and production      The Human Lineage Matt Cartmill, Fred H. Smith, 2011-09-20 This textbook aimed at advanced undergraduates and postgraduates in paleoanthropology courses tackles a rather difficult task that of presenting the substantial body of paleontological genetic geological and archaeological evidence regarding human evolution and the associated scientific history in a logical and readable way without sacrificing either clarity or detail the sheer quality of the writing and explanatory synthesis in this book will undoubtedly make it a valuable resource for students for many years PaleoAnthropology 2010 This book focuses on the last ten million years of human history from the hominoid radiations to the emergence and diversification of modern humanity It draws upon the fossil record to shed light on the key scientific issues principles methods and history in paleoanthropology The book proceeds through the fossil record of human evolution by historical stages representing the acquisition of major human features that explain the success and distinctive properties of modern Homo sapiens Key features Provides thorough coverage of the fossil record and sites with data on key variables such as cranial capacity and body size estimates Offers a balanced critical assessment of the interpretative models explaining pattern in the fossil record Each chapter incorporates a Blind Alley box focusing on once prevalent ideas now rejected such as the arboreal theory seed eating single species hypothesis and Piltdown man Promotes critical thinking by students while allowing instructors flexibility in structuring their teaching Densely illustrated with informative well labelled anatomical drawings and photographs Includes an annotated bibliography for advanced inquiry Written by established leaders in the field providing depth of expertise on evolutionary theory and anatomy through to functional morphology this textbook is essential reading for all advanced undergraduate students and beginning graduate students in biological anthropology      African Exodus Chris Stringer, Robin McKie, 2015-07-14 A Choice Outstanding Academic Book A Library Journal Best Sci Tech Book A New York Times Notable Book Once in a generation a book such as African Exodus emerges to transform the way we see ourselves This landmark book which argues that our genes betray the secret of a single racial stock shared by all of modern humanity has set off one of the most bitter debates in contemporary science We emerged out of Africa the authors cont less than 100 000 years ago and replaced all other human populations Employing persuasive fossil and genetic evidence the proof is in the blood not just the bones and an exceptionally readable style Stringer and McKie challenge long held beliefs that suggest we evolved separately as different races with genetic roots reaching back two million years      Rethinking the Human Revolution Paul Mellars, 2007 Arising from a conference Rethinking the Human Revolution reconsiders all of the central issues in modern human behavioural cognitive biological and demographic origins in the light of new information and new theoretical perspectives which have emerged over the past twenty years of intensive research in this field The 34 papers cover topics ranging from the DNA and skeletal evidence for modern human origins in Africa through the archaeological evidence for the emergence of distinctively modern patterns of human behaviour and cognition to the various lines of evidence for the geographical dispersal patterns of biologically and behaviourally modern populations from their African origins throughout Asia Australasia and Europe over the past 60 000 years

The Evolution of Modern Humans in Africa Pamela R. Willoughby, 2006-12-28 Pamela Willoughby provides a wide ranging synthesis of current knowledge about the evolution of fully modern humans in Africa during the Middle Palaeolithic Middle Stone Age According to most scholars our modern ancestors first emerged in Africa and then spread throughout the habitable world Willoughby brings evidence from mitochondrial DNA ancient fossils and archaeological remains including her own research in Tanzania to bear on questions regarding the place of human species in nature the specific origins of Homo Sapiens and the dispersal of these modern humans throughout Africa and around the globe She confronts straightforwardly the problems of dating the earliest modern humans and she discusses the various alternative models of modern human origins which will be debated for years to come

The Evolution of Modern Humans in Africa is a compelling thought provoking book for both students and scholars

The Origin of Modern Humans in East Asia and Australasia Phillip John Habgood, 1989 Two explanations for the origins of modern humans in East Asia and Australasia Rapid Replacement hypothesis a single origin of humans within a restricted geographical region Regional Continuity hypothesis evolution of humans in a number of geographical regions
