The Battle of Le Hamel on 4 July 1918 was an Allied triumph and strategically very important in the closing stages of WWI A largely Australian force commanded by the brilliant Sir John Monash fought what has been described as the first modern battle where infantry tanks artillery and planes operated together as a coordinated force Monash planned every detail meticulously with nothing left to chance Integrated use of tanks planes infantry wireless and even carrier pigeons was the basis and it went on from there down to the details everyone used the same maps with updated versions delivered by motorbike despatch riders to senior commanders including Monash Each infantry battalion was allocated to a tank group and they advanced together Supplies and ammunition were dropped as needed from planes The losses were relatively few In the words of Monash A perfected modern battle plan is like nothing so much as a score for an orchestral composition where the various arms and units are the instruments and the tasks they perform are their respective musical phrases Monash planned for the battle to last for 90 minutes in the end it went for 93 What happened in those minutes changed for the rest of the war the way the British fought battles and the tactics and strategies used by the Allies Peter FitzSimons brings this Allied triumph to life and tells this magnificent story as it should be told Donald Friend, Australian War Artist, 1945 Gavin Fry, Colleen Fry, 1982 Australian War Memorial Museum Australian War Memorial Museum, Sydney, 1929 George Lambert (1873-1930) Catalogue Raisonné Anne Gray, 1996 portrait of Walter Baldwin Spencer by G W Lambert listed as item P376 in the catalogue The Solomon Islands Campaign, Guadalcanal to Rabaul Eugene L. the Bergen Belsen concentration camp to Ray Parkin's drawings of the tropical beauty that lay just beyond the barbed wire of the Japanese prisoner of war camp he was interned in to Rick Amor's imposing and thought provoking oil paintings of the destruction in East Timor in 1999. These artists have shaped how we see war, immortalising soldiers and battles. From World War II to Vietnam and the war against terrorism, the war artist has opened our eyes and perceptions to historic events that might otherwise have been censored, distorted or forgotten. In the process, they have created some extraordinary art: beautiful, harrowing, mesmerising and character defining.

Drawing in Australia Andrew Sayers, 1989. This beautifully illustrated book is an informative and fascinating chronological survey of Australian drawing since 1770. Defining a drawing as any unique work on paper, Sayer examines a wide range of them in relation to the social influences of the period in which they were created, the genre and the medium, and discusses stylistic changes and changes in perception, such as in the many revivals that drawing has experienced since the 1920s. He also provides drawings of natural history, Aborigines and landscape, portraits, scenes of contemporary life of the 1850s, decorative drawing, watercolors, and examples of surrealistic techniques.
