Vagabond Fictions Carole Sweeney, 2020-11-05 Examines British women's experimental writing in historical contexts 1945-1970 The first detailed literary history of women's experimental writing in post war Britain Provides a detailed historical overview combined with close critical readings and complemented by an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources Considers literature in changing cultural and technological contexts of production through the BBC the Arts Council and avant garde publishing houses Offers detailed biographical information on each writer based on original archival research carried out in the British Library and at the Harry Ransom Centre at the University of Texas Filling in a blank spot in the history of twentieth century women's writing Carole Sweeney examines the work of five experimental writers Anna Kavan Brigid Brophy Christine Brooke Rose Eva Figs and Ann Quin whose writing has been neglected in accounts of the development of post 1945 British literature Each of these writers Sweeney argues engaged in diverse formal experiments that challenge the critical commonplace suggesting that after the end of aesthetic modernism the mid century British novel was characterised by a wholesale return to realism Avoiding any insistence on a straightforward opposition between literary realism and experimentalism this study draws upon original archival and biographical material and offers close readings of the creative and critical work of these vagabond writers demonstrating how they wrote against aesthetic and thematic conventions of their times and negotiated and often repudiated concepts of feminine writing

Naked Lunch @ 50 Oliver C. G. Harris, Ian MacFadyen, 2009 Celebrating and analyzing a landmark novel that is aberrant obscene and blasphemous Naked Lunch was banned ridiculed and castigated on publication in 1959 and yet fifty years down the line it has lost nothing of its power to astonish and inspire A lacerating satire an exorcism of demons a grotesque cabinet of horrors and a landmark experiment in linguistic derangement it is a work of ecstatic excoriating laughter and great transcendent beauty The first book ever to take on William Burroughs masterpiece this critical collection brings together an international array of writers scholars musicians scientists and artists who cast new eyes on the writing and reception of Burroughs unique work Tracing its origins from Texas to Tangier from Mexico City to New York and Paris crossing time zones and cultures Naked Lunch 50 breaks new ground in understanding this most influential but elusive of texts Naked Lunch 50 includes studies of the text s manuscript and textual history of its origins in and creative debts to a range of specific locations of its reception in different societies over time and in relation to broader cultural artistic and personal histories Contributors discuss the novel s existence as a physical object in regard to both design and collectability the history of its critical reception its cultural importance in relation to censorship and visionary art its relationship to literary genres from science fiction to the horror film and its significance as a work prophetic of current trends in electronic culture and biology A series of introductory sections or Dossiers written by Ian MacFadyen provide glimpses of further horizons of research and reading while a set of endpapers by the artist Philip Taaffe offers a visual correlative to Burroughs extraordinary text

Pandora's Young Men Frederick Watson, 1920 Anna Kavan Victoria Walker, 2023-04-17 This first book length study of Anna Kavan s writing contradicts earlier critical approaches that have figured her writing as sui generis by reading her comparatively alongside her contemporaries especially Jean Rhys Elizabeth Bowen Muriel Spark and Doris Lessing Taking Kavan s fiction as pivotal to understanding trends of experimentalism that emerged across the middle of the twentieth century it offers close readings of her distinctive prose including her early Helen Ferguson texts her writing of asylum incarceration her wartime stories and her postwar novels Observing how her fiction challenges perceived divisions between experimental and realist writing literary and popular genre and late modernist and postwar literatures it focuses on the ways that Kavan s writing undermines fixed or knowable identity and explores the relationship between reality and fiction

This study not only brings necessary attention to a neglected writer but also suggests new taxonomies for reading experimental fiction in the mid twentieth century Memphis Underground Stewart Home, 2007 Memphis Underground documents the author's obsessions with soul music and the theory and practice of art while marking another step up in his progress as one of the country's most fascinating avant garde writers The Literary Review, 2002 The Secret Ruth Thomas, 2012-03-31 Mum knew she shouldn't have left the children alone That was why she was hurrying home running to catch the evening train She was so worried about Nicky and Roy that she didn't hear the thief come up behind her she didn't look carefully when she dashed across the road Back at home Nicky is finding it harder and harder to reassure her younger brother Roy Soon the children are running out of money and the neighbours are getting suspicious But whatever happens Nicky is certain of one thing she will NEVER tell Pandora's Box Clive Egleton, 2008 A new case for SIS Chief Charles Winter 1962 America has set up a quarantine zone around Cuba preventing Soviet ships from importing nuclear hardware Meanwhile SIS Chief Charles Winter is investigating the death of a double agent whose KGB control Vasili Korznikov has recently defected to American Intelligence Washington isn't keen to let Winter investigate Korznikov but there's little time for diplomacy since the Russian ships are already on their way to Cuba Miss Pandora M.
