Grosman, Barbara Seidhofer, 1998 It has long been an assumption in the field of English as a foreign language that those who speak the language as natives pronounce the way it should be taught Most influential figures in the field have been outsiders and the subject has accordingly not been really defined as the teaching of English as a foreign language but as the teaching of English to foreigners quite a different thing This book discusses the designing of programs for learning which will take the different kinds of foreign ness into account     Managing Dilemmas Alexandra Miletta, 2003     Children and Reading Tests Clifford Hill, Eric Larsen, 2000-02-22 The increasing reliance of our educational system on standardized tests has precipitated a national debate This debate however has proceeded with little attention to the tests themselves This book makes a scholarly contribution to the debate by using the methods of discourse analysis to examine not only representative material from reading tests but also children s responses to it The book is particularly attentive to the role of culture in shaping children s understanding of what they read
