Techniques for Optimizing Multiprocessor Implementations of Signal Processing Applications An indispensable component of the information age signal processing is embedded in a variety of consumer devices including cell phones and digital television as well as in communication infrastructure such as media servers and cellular base stations Multiple programmable processors along with custom hardware running in parallel are needed to achieve the computation throughput required of such applications Reviews important research in key areas related to the multiprocessor implementation of multimedia systems Embedded Multiprocessors Scheduling and Synchronization Second Edition presents architectures and design methodologies for parallel systems in embedded digital signal processing DSP applications It discusses application modeling techniques for multimedia systems the incorporation of interprocessor communication costs into multiprocessor scheduling decisions and a modeling methodology the synchronization graph for multiprocessor system performance analysis The book also applies the synchronization graph model to develop hardware and software optimizations that can significantly reduce the interprocessor communication overhead of a given schedule Chronicles recent activity dealing with single chip multiprocessors and dataflow models This edition updates the background material on existing embedded multiprocessors including single chip multiprocessors It also summarizes the new research on dataflow models for signal processing that has been carried out since the publication of the first edition Harness the power of multiprocessors This book explores the optimization of interprocessor communication and synchronization in embedded multiprocessor systems It shows you how to design multiprocessor computer systems that are streamlined for multimedia applications Multiprocessors and array processors Walter J. Algorithms, Software and Hardware of Parallel Computers J. Miklosko, V. J. Kotov, 2013-04-17 Both algorithms and the software and hardware of automatic computers have gone through a rapid development in the past 35 years The dominant factor in this development was the advance in computer technology Computer parameters were systematically improved through electron tubes transistors and integrated circuits of ever increasing integration density which also influenced the development of new algorithms and programming methods Some years ago the situation in computers development was that no additional enhancement of their performance could be achieved by increasing the speed of their logical elements due to the physical barrier of the maximum transfer speed of electric signals Another enhancement of computer performance has been achieved by parallelism which makes it possible by a suitable organization of n processors to obtain a performance increase of up to n times Research into parallel computations has been carried out for several years in many countries and many results of fundamental importance have been obtained Many parallel computers have been designed and their algorithmic and programming systems built Such computers include ILLIAC IV DAP STARAN OMEN STAR 100 TEXAS INSTRUMENTS ASC CRAY 1 C mmp CM CLIP 3 PEPE This trend is supported by the fact that a many algorithms and programs are highly parallel in their structure b the new LSI and VLSI technologies have allowed processors to be combined into large parallel structures c greater and greater demands for speed and reliability of computers are made

Multiprocessors David Alejandro Padua Haiek,1979 Multiprocessors and Runtime Compilation Joel Saltz,Institute for Computer Applications in Science and Engineering,1990 Abstract Runtime time preprocessing plays a major role in many efficient algorithms in computer science as well as playing an important role in exploiting multiprocessor architectures We give examples that elucidate the importance of run time preprocessing and show how these optimizations can be integrated into compilers To support our arguments we describe transformations implemented in prototype multiprocessor compilers and present benchmarks from the iPSC2 860 the CM 2 and the Encore Multimax 320 Multiprocessors and Array Processors: Proceedings of the Third Conference on Multiprocessors and Array Processors, 14-16 Jan. 1987, San Diego, CA.
