Black Girl Autopoetics Ashleigh Greene Wade,2023-12-11

In Black Girl Autopoetics Ashleigh Greene Wade explores how Black girls create representations of themselves in digital culture with the speed and flexibility enabled by smartphones She analyzes the double bind Black girls face when creating content online on one hand their online activity makes them hypervisible putting them at risk for cyberbullying harassment and other forms of violence on the other hand Black girls are rarely given credit for their digital inventiveness rendering them invisible Wade maps Black girls everyday digital practices showing what their digital content reveals about their everyday experiences and how their digital production contributes to a broader archive of Black life. She coins the term Black girl auto-poetics to describe how Black girls self-making creatively reinvents cultural products spaces and discourse in digital space. Using ethnographic research into the digital cultural production of adolescent Black girls throughout the United States, Wade draws a complex picture of how Black girls navigate contemporary reality, urging us to listen to Black girls' experience and learn from their techniques of survival.
