disciplinary dialogue In conversation with dialogue partners Joan Hebert Reisinger seeks the reasons why Catholics over the age of twenty one who were once active and involved in the Catholic Church find themselves on the margins of the Church and how they understand their own marginality The dialogue partners speak of new ways of being Church emerging on the margins This emerging Church is marked by inclusive relationships that include dialogue that does not seek agreement or consensus a critical and thoughtful recalling of memories and narratives of the Catholic faith tradition and appropriation of these in new and creative ways

A Will to Learn: Being a Student in an Age of Uncertainty Ronald Barnett, 2007-10-16 There is an extraordinary but largely unnoticed phenomenon in higher education by and large students persevere and complete their studies How should we interpret this tendency Students are living in uncertain times and often experience anxiety and yet they continue to press forward with their studies The argument here is that we should understand this propensity on the part of students to persist through a will to learn This book examines the structure of what it is to have a will to learn Here a language of being becoming authenticity dispositions voice air spirit inspiration and care is drawn on As such this book offers an idea of student development that challenges the dominant views of our age of curricula understood largely in terms of skill or even of knowledge and pedagogy understood as bringing off pre specified outcomes The will to learn though can be fragile This is of crucial importance for if the will to learn dissolves the student s commitment may falter Accordingly more than encouraging an interest in the student s subject or in the acquiring of skills the primary responsibility of teachers in higher education is to sustain and develop the student s will to learn This is a radical thesis for it implies a transformation in how we understand the nature of teaching in higher education

Text-Based Research and Teaching Peter Mican, Elise Lopez, 2016-12-26 Contributions in this book illustrate the many methods available for researching language in context and for the analysis of everyday text types Each chapter highlights language as a resource for the expression of meanings a social semiotic resource Text analysis is used to reveal our capacity to formulate multiple meanings for participation in different social practices in relationships in work in education and in leisure The approach is applied in text based teaching and in the critical analysis of public discourses The texts come from different social spheres including banking language classes senate hearings national tests and textbooks and interior architecture Text based research makes a major contribution to Critical Discourse Analysis The editors and authors of this book demonstrate the value of text analysis for awareness of the role of language for accountable citizenship and for teaching and learning This book will be of interest to anyone researching in the fields of language learning and teaching functional linguistics multimodality social semiotics systemic functional linguistics text based teaching and genre analysis as well as literacy teachers and undergraduate and postgraduate students of linguistics media and education

Linguistic Creativity in Japanese Discourse Senko K. Maynard, 2007 Using theoretical concepts of self perspective and voice as an interpretive guide and based on the Place of Negotiation theory this volume explores the phenomenon of linguistic creativity in Japanese discourse i.e. the use of language in specific ways for foregrounding personalized expressive meanings. Personalized expressive meanings include psychological, emotive, interpersonal and rhetorical aspects of communication encompassing broad meanings such as feelings of intimacy or distance, emotion, empathy, humor, playfulness, persona, sense of self, identity, rhetorical effects and so on. Nine analysis chapters explore the meanings, functions and effects observable in the indices of linguistic creativity, focusing on discourse creativity, style, mixture, borrowing, others' styles, genre, mixture, rhetorical creativity, puns, metaphors, metaphors in multimodal discourse and grammatical creativity, negatives, demonstratives, first person references. Based on the analysis of verbal and visual data drawn from multiple genres of contemporary cultural discourse, this work reveals that by creatively expressing in language we share our worlds from multiple perspectives, we speak in self's and others' many voices and we endlessly create personalized expressive meanings as testimony to our own sense of being.

"In Search of ..." Airi-Alina Allaste, Katrin Tiidenberg, 2015-02-05. This collection of fifteen methodological texts by a group of thirty international youth and social researchers is a polyphony of scholarly voices advancing the field of qualitative inquiry in youth studies. The book homes in on ways of adapting, remixing and reconsidering qualitative methods in order to better serve youth researchers in the twenty-first century. The texts included in this collection offer honest and open accounts of searching for, assembling, testing and rejecting creative, well-known or unconventional techniques from various methodical homes. As is emphasized in the title, this is not so much an overview as an inquiry into conducting youth research in an environment that is constantly transforming. Researchers are always seeking out the best ways to capture and co-produce meaning that can be used for the greater good. This book offers fresh interpretations of and feedback on inventive combinations of methods, research questions and theoretical frameworks. It will be of interest to all who work in youth studies and sociology and particularly useful to postgraduate students, junior scholars and established researchers seeking to branch out into new terrain.

The Prize of Success Jonas Berthod, 2024-04-02. In the small world of Swiss graphic design prizes such as the Swiss Design Awards (SDA), they are followed closely. The winners' works are admired, envied and emulated. The generous prize money allows designers to launch their careers and focus on lesser-paid but critically recognised work. Awards thus play the role of bellwethers of the scene. However, criticisms inevitably arise. Speaking in hushed tones, designers speculate as to why a colleague won over another. Rumours have it that jury members favour their inner circles and exclude competitors. Analysing this universe in detail, Jonas Berthod retraces the recent history of the SDA and the emergence of a new design culture in Switzerland.
