New Trends In Mathematical Anthropology:

New Trends in Mathematical Anthropology Gisèle de Meur, 1986 Includes papers by G de Meur F Tjon Sie Fat and D H Turner and D T Hoey annotated separately The Reinvention of Primitive Society Adam Kuper, 2017-02-17 The Reinvention of Primitive Society critiques ideas about the origins of society and religion that have been hotly debated since Darwin Tracing interpretations of the barbarian savage and primitive back through the centuries to ancient Greece Kuper challenges the myth of primitive society a concept revived in its current form by the modern indigenous peoples movement tapping into widespread popular beliefs regarding the noble savage and reflecting a romantic reaction against civilisation and science Through a fascinating analysis of seminal works in anthropology classical studies and law this book reveals how wholly mistaken theories can become the basis for academic research and political programmes Lucidly written and highly influential since first publication it is a must have text for those interested in anthropological theory and post colonial debates Indigenous Knowledge and Ethnomathematics Eric Vandendriessche, Rik Pinxten, 2023-02-14 The book presents a series of ethnographic studies which illustrate issues of wider importance such as the role of cultural traditions concepts and learning procedures in the development of formal or mathematical thinking outside of the western tradition It focuses on research at the crossroads of anthropology and ethnomathematics to document indigenous mathematical knowledge and its inclusion in specific cultural patterns More generally the book demonstrates the heuristic value of crossing ethnographical anthropological and ethnomathematical approaches to highlight and analyze or formalize with a pedagogical outlook indigenous mathematical knowledge The book is divided into three parts The first part extensively analyzes theoretical claims using particular ethnographic data while revealing the structural mathematical features of different ludic graphic or technical procedural practices in their links to other cultural phenomena In the second part new empirical studies that add data and perspectives from the body of studies on indigenous knowledge systems to the ongoing discussions in mathematics education in and for diverse cultural traditions are presented This part considers on the one hand the Brazilian work in this field on the other hand it brings ethnographic innovation from other parts of the world The third part comprises a broad philosophical discussion of the impact of intuitive or ontological premises on mathematical thinking and education in the light of recent developments within so called indigenously inspired thinking Finally the editors conclusions aim to invite the broad and diversified field of scholars in this domain of research to seek alternative approaches for understanding mathematical reasoning and the adjacent adequate educational goals and means This book is of interest to scholars and students in anthropology ethnomathematics history and philosophy of science mathematics and mathematics education as well as other individuals interested in these topics The Power of Perspective Knut Mikjel Rio, 2007 Introduction Kinship and sand drawing The totalising third party The spirals of marriage Of yams and men The intentionality of ceremonial agency Displaying life after death The phenomenology of Ambrym exchange Conclusions Denying the gift The Ethnographic

Experiment Edvard Hviding, Cato Berg, 2014-06-01 In 1908 Arthur Maurice Hocart and William Halse Rivers conducted fieldwork in the Solomon Islands and elsewhere in Island Melanesia that served as the turning point in the development of modern anthropology The work of these two anthropological pioneers on the small island of Simbo brought about the development of participant observation as a methodological hallmark of social anthropology This would have implications for Rivers later work in psychiatry and psychology and Hocart's work as a comparativist for which both would largely be remembered despite the novelty of that independent fieldwork on remote Pacific islands in the early years of the 20th Century Contributors to this volume who have all carried out fieldwork in those Melanesian locations where Hocart and Rivers worked give a critical examination of the research that took place in 1908 situating those efforts in the broadest possible contexts of colonial history imperialism the history of ideas and scholarly practice within and beyond anthropology

New Trends in the History and Philosophy of Mathematics Tinne Hoff Kjeldsen, Stig Andur Pedersen, Lise Mariane Sonne-Hansen, 2004 This book is a collection of papers presented at the conference New Trends in the History and Philosophy of Mathematics held at the University of Roskilde Denmark 6-8 August 1998 The purpose of the meeting was to present some of the new ideas on the study of mathematics its character and the nature of its development During the last decades work in history and philosophy of mathematics has led to several new original views on mathematics Both new methods and angles of study have been introduced and old views of say the nature of mathematical theories and proofs have been challenged For instance disciplines as ethnohistorical studies of mathematics and the sociology of mathematics have resulted in several new insights and classical historians of mathematics are also experimenting with new perspectives In a similar way philosophy of mathematics has witnessed rather deep changes Classical foundational studies have been challenged by new broader perspectives The aim was to provide a forum within which historians of mathematics philosophers and mathematicians could exchange ideas and discuss different new approaches in the history and philosophy of mathematics The book includes papers by Joan Richards Henk J M Bos Donald MacKenzie Arthur Jaffe Jody Azzouni and Paulus Gerdes It also includes an extended introduction

Artifak Hugo DeBlock, 2018-11-29 In Vanuatu commoditization and revitalization of culture and the arts do not necessarily work against each other both revolve around value formation and the authentication of things This book investigates the meaning and value of art objects as commodities in differing states of transit and transition in the local place on the market in the museum It provides an ethnographic account of commoditization in a context of revitalization of culture and the arts in Vanuatu and the issues this generates such as authentication of actions and things indigenized copyright and kastom disputes over ownership and the nature of kastom itself Jakarta Malay C.D.
