Norbert Wiener

Norbert Wiener:

Cybernetics or Control and Communication in the Animal and the Machine, Reissue of the 1961 second edition Norbert Wiener, 2019-10-08 A classic and influential work that laid the theoretical foundations for information theory and a timely text for contemporary information theorists and practitioners. With the influential book Cybernetics first published in 1948, Norbert Wiener laid the theoretical foundations for the multidisciplinary field of cybernetics, the study of controlling the flow of information in systems with feedback loops, be they biological, mechanical, cognitive, or social. At the core of Wiener's theory is the message information sent and responded to feedback the functionality of a machine, organism, or society depends on the quality of messages. Information corrupted by noise prevents homeostasis or equilibrium. And yet Cybernetics is as philosophical as it is technical, with the first chapter devoted to Newtonian and Bergsonian time and the philosophical mixed with the technical throughout. This book brings the 1961 second edition back into print with new forewords by Doug Hill and Sanjoy Mitter. Contemporary readers of Cybernetics will marvel at Wiener's prescience, his warnings against noise, his disdain for hucksters and gadget worshipers, and his view of the mass media as the single greatest anti-homeostatic force in society. This edition of Cybernetics gives a new generation access to a classic text. Harmonies of Disorder Leone Montagnini, 2017-08-19 This book presents the entire body of thought of Norbert Wiener (1894-1964), knowledge of which is essential if one wishes to understand and correctly interpret the age in which we live. The focus is in particular on the philosophical and sociological aspects of Wiener's thought, but these aspects are carefully framed within the context of his scientific journey. Important biographical events, including some that were previously unknown, are also highlighted, but while the book has a biographical structure, it is not only a biography. The book is divided into four chronological sections, the first two of which explore Wiener's development as a philosopher and logician and his brilliant interwar career as a mathematician supported by his philosophical background. The third section considers his research during World War II, which drew upon his previous scientific work and reflections and led to the birth of cybernetics. Finally, the radical post-war shift in Wiener's intellectual path is considered, examining how he came to abandon computer science projects and commenced ceaseless public reflections on the new sciences and technologies of information, their social effects, and the need for responsibility in science. Norbert Wiener#A Life in Cybernetics Norbert Wiener, 2018-03-23 Norbert Wiener's celebrated autobiography available for the first time in one volume. Norbert Wiener: A Life in Cybernetics combines for the first time the two volumes of Norbert Wiener's celebrated autobiography. Published at the height of public enthusiasm for cybernetics when it was taken up by scientists, engineers, science fiction writers, artists, and musicians. Ex Prodigy (1953) and I Am a Mathematician (1956) received attention from both scholarly and mainstream publications, garnering reviews and publicity in outlets that ranged from the New York Times and New York Post to the Virginia Quarterly Review. Norbert Wiener was a mathematician with extraordinarily broad interests. The son of a Harvard professor of Slavic languages, Wiener was reading Dante and Darwin at seven graduated from Tufts at fourteen and received a PhD from Harvard at eighteen He joined MIT s Department of Mathematics in 1919 where he remained until his death in 1964 at sixty nine In Ex Prodigy Wiener offers an emotionally raw account of being raised as a child prodigy by an overbearing father In I Am a Mathematician Wiener describes his research at MIT and how he established the foundations for the multidisciplinary field of cybernetics and the theory of feedback systems This volume makes available the essence of Wiener s life and thought to a new generation of readers Publications of Norbert Wiener Norbert Wiener,Norman J. Faramelli,1965 Norbert Wiener: A Mathematician Among Engineers Jose Maria Almira,2022-12-16 Norbert Wiener 1894 1964 is well known by the general public as the founder of Cybernetics by mathematicians as one of the first north American mathematicians who win international prestige as the person who formalized Brownian motion solved the Zaremba problem and was the author of two seminal papers devoted to Generalized Harmonic Analysis and Tauberian Theorems and by engineers as the person who proposed much of the Fourier analysis used by them and contributed to the foundation of the statistical theory of communication which includes the use of wave filter theory information theory and prediction theory in control and communications as well as the automation of all types of electronic devices Wiener s research which was frequently motivated by physics engineering or biology was a clever mixture of Fourier analysis and probability theory His contributions to electronics through his work on filtering that is the separation of noise from a message and the theory of prediction made him very valuable to electronics engineering In addition Wiener addressed many other topics including the formalization of the Brownian motion ergodic theory wave filter theory and information theory Taking all these ingredients together he ventured to create a new scientific paradigm cybernetics This book contains a detailed explanation of Wiener s life his many colleagues and the historical context in which he lived as well as Wiener s work It also contains a large appendix about Wiener Shannon and the rise of a Digital World The main focus of the book is on Wiener s work related to electrical and electronic engineering and the way he used his mathematics to create the main concepts and techniques of the statistical theory of communication In particular the author presents Wiener surrounded by the engineers that worked at MIT with whom he maintained strong contact It was in this atmosphere that information theory arose and Wiener was a main influence on the people who developed that theory Invention Norbert Wiener,1994 An insider s view of the history of discovery and invention I Am a Mathematician Norbert Wiener,1956 Norbert Wiener Norbert Wiener, Dark Hero of the Information Age Flo Conway,Jim Siegelman,2009-04-27 Child prodigy and brilliant MIT mathematician Norbert Wiener founded the revolutionary science of cybernetics and ignited the information age explosion of computers automation and global telecommunications His best selling book Cybernetics catapulted him into the public spotlight as did his chilling visions of the future and his ardent social activism Based on a wealth of primary sources and exclusive access to Wiener s closest family members friends and colleagues Dark Hero of the Information Age reveals this eccentric genius as an extraordinarily complex figure No one interested in the intersection of technology and culture will want to miss this epic story of one of the twentieth century's most brilliant and colorful figures Ex-Prodigy Norbert Wiener, 1964-01-01 The Legacy of Norbert Wiener Norbert Wiener, David Jerison, Isadore Manuel Singer, Daniel W. Stroock, 1997-01-01 This book contains lectures presented at the MIT symposium on the 100th anniversary of Norbert Wiener's birth held in October 1994. The topics reflect Wiener's main interests while emphasizing current developments. In addition to lectures dealing directly with problems on which Wiener worked such as potential theory, harmonic analysis, Wiener-Hopf theory and Paley-Wiener theory, the book discusses the following topics: Fourier integral operators with complex phase, a contemporary successor to the Paley-Wiener theory; statistical aspects of quantum mechanics and of liquid crystals; financial markets including the new trading strategies for options based on Wiener processes; statistical methods of genetic research; models of the nervous system, pattern recognition and the nature of intelligence. The volume includes reviews on Norbert Wiener's contributions from historical and current perspectives. This book gives mathematical researchers an overview of new mathematical problems presented by other areas and gives researchers in other fields a broad overview of the ways in which advanced mathematics might be useful to them. Selected Papers of Norbert Wiener Norbert Wiener, The Legacy of Norbert Wiener: A Centennial Symposium Norbert Wiener, David Jerison, Isadore Manuel Singer, Daniel W. Norbert Wiener's classic is one in that small company. Founder of the science of cybernetics, the study of the relationship between computers and the human nervous system, Wiener was widely misunderstood as one who advocated the automation of human life. As this book reveals, his vision was much more complex and interesting. He hoped that machines would release people from relentless and repetitive drudgery in order to achieve more creative pursuits. At the same time he realized the danger of dehumanizing and displacement. His book examines the implications of cybernetics for education, law, language, science, technology as he anticipates the enormous
