Multinational Firms The Global Local Dilemma:

Multinational Firms John Dunning, Jean-Louis Mucchielli, 2001-12-13 This volume presents the work of specialists on multinational strategy addressing the main questions of globalization competitiveness the impact of regionalism agglomeration strategic location choice and relocation and public aid

Multinational Firms and Impacts on Employment, Trade and Technology Robert E. Lipsey, Jean-Louis Mucchielli, 2001-12-13 This collection of essays shows the high degree of complementarity between foreign direct investment and home export challenging the long held fear that firms investing abroad leads to a loss of employment and decline in the home country

Multinational Firms' Location and the New Economic Geography Jean Louis Mucchielli, Thierry Mayer, 2004 The choice of location for the production plants of multinational firms is an important issue not least because this decision is accompanied by so many fears brought into public debate This book analyses how foreign direct investors choose their locations whilst exploring the forces which shape international economic geography Although these two issues are to some extent inter related researchers have only recently acknowledged the similarity of economic geography and international business approaches to the empirical assessment of likely causes of the degree of spatial concentration observed in many modern industries Giving insight into the direction that future research should take this book contains state of the art papers on both theoretical and empirical levels This original collection makes a particularly important contribution to our understanding of the existence and impact of home market effects Introducing a welcome synthesis between two related and yet rarely integrated areas of study using case studies of firms in Europe US MNEs and the Mexican automobile industry this book will be welcomed by both academic and practising economists Regional scientists and economists and those with a specific interest in international trade issues will also find the book enlightening

International Business in China Robert Taylor, 2013-09-13 This book deals with a number of contentious issues in Chinese management as China emerges as a global economic player with a greater role in international business during a global economic crisis This step is in tandem with an economically driven foreign policy Since the 1980s Chinese management while still in transition has benefited from an infusion of capital technology and managerial expertise through inward direct investment via joint and wholly owned foreign ventures As the so called workshop of the world China and its exports especially labour intensive goods face protectionism in the United States and the European Union To circumvent these barriers the Chinese leaders are emphasising domestic consumption itself dependent on rising personal income levels and an improved national social insurance system and a move to high tech products themselves requiring indigenous innovation The creation of a knowledge economy in addition to outward investment in manufacturing could lead to a distinctive independent style of Chinese management Simultaneously China's participation in intra regional trade underlines the nation's role in Asian regional business networks Such developments in turn present a challenge to Western and global business This book was published as a special issue of Asia Pacific Business Review

The Future of the Multinational Company Julian Birkinshaw, 2003-08 Publisher Description International Business John B. Cullen, K. Praveen Parboteeah, 2009-09-10 A new international business text for a new and ever changing global environment Global vs. Local Marketing. An Analysis of the Usefulness for Global Companies Valea Adams, 2017-01-04 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 0 The FOM University of Applied Sciences Hamburg language English abstract This seminar paper evaluates the dimensions of standardized global marketing and local marketing for global companies by starting with a short insight into globalization and global firms in general followed by an illustration of the global local dilemma that forces a decision on the choice between selling the same product across all boundaries and the implementation of local marketing strategies in order to respond to regional differences The term paper continues with an explanation of local and standardized global marketing exemplified by the global players McDonald s and Apple and concludes with a comparison of both approaches The debate on standardization and adaptation in marketing has sparked a debate for decades Dating back to Levitt who is one of the leading advocates of the standardization approach in marketing many other researchers followed Levitt s argument about the homogenization of consumer markets However critics of this thesis argue that just a just a few products can be easily standardized in a global manner Kotler argues that national marketing can t be simply extended to an international level as consumer behavior significantly varies depending on the country Today virtually every major company is forced to compete in the global market And global marketers need to navigate through diverse cultures that go along with unpredicted rules and differences Companies that are taking their business global and aim to successfully sell their products and services in foreign markets face many challenges The most challenging decision in this progress is the degree of standardization or adaptation in the firm s operations Many companies have understood the importance of global activities
