on the writing of Eiseley situates his work in the genres of creative nonfiction and nature writing. The contributing scholars apply a variety of critical approaches including ecocriticism and place oriented studies ranging across prairie, urban and international contexts. Loren Eiseley's Writing across the Nature and Culture Divide analyses how the philosopher of science becomes a boundary crosser in time and space. Qianqian Cheng points to Eiseley's method of uniting science and the humanities to reflect on human evolution and the past and future role of science with a visionary and poetic imagination. Seizing the connectedness of living beings, Eiseley and now Cheng makes us aware of the presence of nature even in daily urban life. Qianqian Cheng unveils Eiseley's merits showing the poet as a necessary voice in the urgent mission to make individuals realize their responsibility to respond ethically to the living world.

All the Strange Hours Loren C. Eiseley, 2000-01-01 A native of Lincoln, Nebraska, Loren Eiseley began his lifelong exploration of nature in the salt flats and ponds around his hometown and in the mammoth bone collection hoarded in the old red brick museum at the University of Nebraska where he conducted his studies in anthropology. It was in pursuit of this interest and in the expression of his natural curiosity and wonder that Eiseley sprang to national fame with the publication of such works as The Immense Journey and The Firmament of Time. In All the Strange Hours Eiseley turns his considerable powers of reflection and discovery on his own life to weave a compelling story related with the modesty, grace and keen eye for a telling anecdote that distinguish his work. His story begins with his childhood experiences as a sickly afterthought weighed down by the loveless union of his parents. From there he traces the odyssey that led to his search for early postglacial man and into inspiring philosophical territory culminating in his uneasy achievement of world renown. Eiseley crafts an absorbing self portrait of a man who has thought deeply about his place in society as well as humanity's place in the natural world.
