Lost Ireland:

Ireland's Lost Birds Gordon D'Arcy, 1999 This book is concerned with the disappearance of a number of once familiar Irish birds The 12 case studies which make up the core of the book were compiled from a combination of literary and archaeological sources

New Worlds, Lost Worlds Susan Brigden, 2002-09-24 No period in British history has more resonance and mystery today than the sixteenth century New Worlds Lost Worlds brings the atmosphere and events of this great epoch to life Exploring the underlying religious motivations for the savage violence and turbulence of the period from Henry VIII's break with Rome to the overwhelming threat of the Spanish Armada Susan Brigden investigates the actions and influences of such near mythical figures as Elizabeth I Thomas More Bloody Mary and Sir Walter Raleigh Authoritative and accessible New Worlds Lost Worlds the latest in the Penguin History of Britain series provides a superb introduction to one of the most important compelling and intriguing periods in the history of the Western world

Lost in Ireland Cindy Callaghan, 2016-03-01 After breaking a chain letter can superstitious Megan find a way to turn her luck around Meghan McGlinchey is the most superstitious girl in her family and probably in the entire state of Delaware When she receives a chain letter from a stranger in Ireland Meghan immediately passes it on taking only a tiny shortcut in the directions But after a disastrous day made complete by losing the election for class president and embarrassing herself in front of the entire school Meghan realizes that tiny shortcut was a big mistake Thankfully her family was already headed to Ireland on spring break and Meghan makes it her mission to find the original sender and break her extremely unlucky streak With the help of an eccentric cast of characters and one very cute Irish boy can Meghan figure out a way to stop her bad luck Or is she cursed forever

Michael Collins: The Lost Leader Margery Forester, 2006-09-12 In print continuously for more than thirty years this book is long established as a reliable and affectionate portrait of Michael Collins First published in 1971 its great strength is that the author was able to interview Collins surviving contemporaries and was offered unrestricted access to personal and family material Michael Collins The Lost Leader has been praised by authorities such as Robert Kee and Maurice Manning and remains compulsive reading even today

Ireland's 1916 Rising Mark McCarthy, 2016-05-06 In light of its upcoming centenary in 2016 the time seems ripe to ask why how and in what ways has memory of Ireland's 1916 Rising persisted over the decades In pursuing answers to these questions which are not only of historical concern but of contemporary political and cultural importance this book breaks new ground by offering a wide ranging exploration of the making and remembrance of the story of 1916 in modern times It draws together the interlocking dimensions of history making commemoration and heritage to reveal the Rising's undeniable influence upon modern Ireland's evolution both instantaneous and long term In addition to furnishing a history of the tumultuous events of Easter 1916 which rattled the British Empire's foundations and enthused independence movements elsewhere Ireland's 1916 Rising mainly concentrates on illuminating the evolving relationship between the Irish past and present In doing so it unearths the far reaching political impacts and deep seated cultural legacies of the actions taken by the rebels as evidenced by the most pivotal episodes in the Rising's commemoration and the myriad varieties of heritage associated with its memory This volume also presents a wider perspective on the ways in which conceptualisations of heritage culture and identity in Westernised societies are shaped by continuities and changes in politics society and economy In a topical conclusion the book examines the legacy of Queen Elizabeth II's visit to the Garden of Remembrance in 2011 and looks to the Rising's 100th anniversary by identifying the common ground that can be found in pluralist and reconciliatory approaches to remembrance Miscellaneous writings

Hugh K. McClelland, 1920 Lost and Found Joe Fenwick, 2003 Archaeologists and historians find it easy to chat about their finds and experiences but rarely commit these to paper in such an informal way The 31 essays that make up this book include personal insights and experiences from an array of people investigating researching and just being interested in the history and archaeology of Ireland The pitch of the essays is towards the general reader and thus the first chapter begins My favourite discovery occurred just before Christmas 2000 Other titles include Two stones make a line Stefan Bergh Do you think you will find the Ark of the Covenant before Indiana Jones Mairead Carew The elephant and the tunnel Conor Newman and A day in the life of a medieval fisherman Aidan O Sullivan The Nautical Magazine and Naval Chronicle for 1839 Various, Various Authors, 2013-02-28 The 1839 Nautical Magazine includes articles on Nelson's column anti slavery measures lightning conductors new lighthouses steamship accidents and Antarctic exploration The Knife Peadar O'Donnell, 1930

Forty-seven Identifications of the British Nation with the Lost Ten Tribes of Israel Edward Hine, 1876 Lost Ireland Orla Fitzpatrick, 2021-02-02 A photographic history of the vanishing face of Ireland The latest in this series takes a look at the most cherished sites of the country that time progress and fashion have swept aside Since the dawn of photography in the mid 19th century the face and economy of Ireland has changed dramatically from a rural farming community to a rising industrial and tech savvy Celtic Tiger It has also shaken off British rule and found itself embroiled in a bloody civil war Featuring some of the most famous sites from across the 32 counties of Ireland including locations used in Game of Thrones this collection of photos shows the buildings institutions and infrastructure that have been lost along the way The legends of St. Patrick, and legends of Ireland's heroic age Aubrey De Vere, 1884 The Nautical Magazine and Naval Chronicle, 1839 The Nautical Magazine and Naval Chronicle... a Journal of Papers on Subjects Connected with Maritime Affairs, 1839 Ireland's Story Charles Johnston, Carita Spencer, 1923 Transactions of the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland Royal Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland, 1898 Was It For This? John Waters, 2012-05-24 Ireland today stands at a defining moment The prosperity of the Celtic Tiger years has given way to the sudden crash the turbulence of the euro crisis and the loss of our sovereignty to the faceless technocrats of Europe and the IMF Our leaders seem impotent and rage bewilderment and despair have swept through Irish society Was It For This delves into the Irish psyche to answer the questions What happened to our hopes and dreams What is at the heart of the sense of betrayal that we feel In the rush to modernity did we throw away everything of true value Have we lost the ideals of nationhood and patriotism set out by those who dreamt of the Irish Republic John Waters remarkable new book sweeps through the pages of our recent history to get to the heart our political social and existential identity crisis Ranging across a vast canvas Was It For This argues that the Celtic Tiger was built on a collective delusion and that the seeds of its destruction were sown many years before it even began when we exchanged our colonial shackles for a no less destructive dependency for short term gain Ireland s sovereignty was given up long before the IMF came to town Along the way Waters ponders our love hate relationship with Fianna F il the undercurrents that ran through the 2011 presidential election why our political leaders and commentators have clung onto the remnants of 1960s revolutionary fervour long after the revolution was won how our denial of an authoritative father figure has led to a leaderless sibling society the emptiness of our youth culture and the suppression of real thought and discussion through cynicism and irony and why we have lost the very language that once enabled us to speak of Ireland with pride Catholic World ,1920 Hockey Field and Lacrosse, Including Net-ball ,1929

The Shipwrecked mariner ,1875
