Monetary Policy with Very Low Inflation in the Pacific Rim Takatoshi Ito,Andrew K. Rose,2007-11-01 Extremely low inflation rates have moved to the forefront of monetary policy discussions In Asia a number of countries most prominently Japan but also Taiwan and China have actually experienced deflation over the last fifteen years Monetary Policy with Very Low Inflation in the Pacific Rim explores the factors that have contributed to these circumstances and forecasts some of the potential challenges faced by these nations as well as some potential solutions The editors of this volume attribute low inflation and deflation in the region to a number of recent phenomena Some of these episodes they argue may be linked to rapid growth on the supply side of economies Here inadequate demand policy can produce what is referred to as a liquidity trap in which the expectation of falling prices encourages agents to defer costly purchases thereby discouraging growth Low inflation rates can also be traced to the presence of a zero lower bound on interest rates as well as the inflation targeting phenomenon Targets have been set so low the editors argue that in some cases a few bad shocks lead to deflation Leslie Kathi S.
