Monitoring Educational Performance In The Caribbean:

Monitoring Educational Performance in the Caribbean Emanuela Di Gropello, 2003 Annotation This study represents a first attempt of providing a comprehensive quantification of educational outcomes in the Caribbean region Monitoring Educational Performance in the Caribbean Emanuela Di Gropello, 2003-01-01 This study represents a first attempt of providing a comprehensive quantification of educational outcomes in the Caribbean region Its main objectives are a to define a set of operationally relevant education indicators b to provide a database of comparable education indicators in Caribbean countries where data is available namely Belize Dominica Dominican Republic Grenada Guyana Jamaica St Kitts and Nevis St Lucia St Vincent and the Grenadines and Trinidad and Tobago and c to propose methods on how the common set of indicators can be used for analyses of the education sectors This exercise is all the more important within the framework of the current Education For All EFA and Millenium Development Goals MDGs initiatives which require the identification and monitoring of relevant indicators to establish where the countries stand in relation to the target of universal primary education After a systematic review of educational indicators in coverage efficiency and quality which leads to specific recommendations on the type of indicator relevant to operational diagnostics of the education sectors the study provides a detailed review of the Caribbean status in producing education indicators and demonstrates how a new database can be used to depict where the education sectors stand Building on these methods and findings its final section presents a set of specific recommendations to the Caribbean countries on how to improve the diagnostics of their education sectors Monitoring Educational Performance in the Caribbean Weltbank, 2013 The study seeks to define a set of operationally relevant education indicators to be used by countries in the Caribbean region to provide a database of comparable education indicators in Caribbean countries where data is available namely Belize Dominica Dominican Republic Grenada Guyana Jamaica St Kitts and Nevis St Lucia St Vincent and the Grenadines and Trinidad and Tobago and to propose methods on how the common set of indicators can be used for analyses of the education sectors Following the introduction under Section I which addresses the current deficiencies in the Caribbean education system Section II defines operationally relevant education indicators in the areas of coverage efficiency and quality In these areas enrollment ratios should be complemented with grade specific indicators efficiency complemented with a cost effectiveness analysis and quality with a variety of standardized tests Monitoring of education indicators in the Caribbean Region is then reviewed in Section III stipulating that despite a traditional limited availability of education statistics and indicators there has recently been substantial efforts both at national and regional levels to improve data collection The new indicator database on ten Caribbean Countries describes and analyzes updated indicators so as to balance diagnostics of the education sectors relevant to policy decisions and ensures comparability to all countries based on country syntheses and cross country comparison Finally Section IV provides policy recommendations that include the need to measure the coverage and efficiency of the entire education cycle to produce and use grade specific indicators such as the completion and survival rates to harmonize education statistics and indicators to improve reporting and monitoring in a systematic way and to participate in international exams to make meaningful comparison of learning outcomes and produce qualitative indicators

Monitoring Educational Performance in the Caribbean, 19?? Research on the Influences of Educational Policy on Teaching and Learning Cynthia Syzmanski Sunal, Kagendo Mutua, 2013-07-23 This book explores education policy in Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East using local data to describe policy development and implementation It highlights the need for policies to address both current and future challenges emphasizing the importance of cultural context and diversity

Secondary School External Examination Systems Barend Vlaardingerbroek, Neil Taylor, 2009 Summative assessment has been a contentious issue in educational circles for several decades particularly high stakes assessment events which arise at various junctures of the school cycle especially those at the end of it The French Baccalaureat and English A Levels and their numerous clones throughout the francophone and anglophone worlds are household names and represent milestone events in people s lives as their outcomes are principal determinants of young people s future prospects These examinations are external they are devised conducted and processed by agencies outside the schools usually ministerial examination units As such they act as blind arbiters of student achievement providing the proverbial level playing field which ensures the comparability of outcomes In the pyramidal school structures of yesteryear examinations acted as filters regulating the progression of pupils to subsequent tiers of formal education Exit points occurred from primary school level up from where unsuccessful candidates could enter the labour force and or embark on occupationally specific further education and training With the modernisation of the labour market and an ever higher social demand for access to higher levels of formal education the filtering function of examinations at lower levels of schooling has been gradually eroded while burgeoning numbers of students at the upper secondary level have brought about reforms that include curricular diversification and sometimes radical overhauls of terminating assessment systems including the modification and in some instances abandonment of external examinations This edited volume brings together the experiences of twenty examination systems from around the world to show how these dynamic entities have adapted over time to the changing context of schooling Following an introduction by Stephen P Heyneman of World Bank repute there are sixteen chapters presenting Country Case Studies which have been written up under common subheadings thereby highlighting the comparative nature of the work and facilitating cross referencing The subsequent four chapters elaborate on the theme of external examinations beyond national borders including a contribution by the International Baccalaureate Organisation A defining feature of the work is the attention it pays to what it calls the nuts and bolts of external examinations from question setting to grading procedures These are it is argued instrumental in nurturing and maintaining public confidence in external examinations The book will be of immense value to people involved in educational policy studies especially strategic educational planning as well as those directly concerned with formal assessment The work has been written to appeal to a wide audience of informed persons it is accessible to teachers and interested laypeople as well as to academics Handbook of Father Involvement Natasha J. Cabrera, Catherine S. Tamis-LeMonda, 2012-12-06 This book brings together experts from diverse scientific disciplines who share an interest in the topic of father involvement Unlike most books in the field which tend to solely draw from a psychological perspective this Handbook merges theories and research from the unique fields of psychology economics demography sociology anthropology and social policy For the most part research on fathering is motivated by concern for children's well being Social scientists share a core set of questions including Who are fathers What is father involvement and how does it affect children and families What are the determinants of father involvement How do cultural contexts shape fathers roles in families This Handbook sheds light on how a cross disciplinary approach to the study of fathering can advance knowledge about these fundamental questions This integrative approach is fundamental to a comprehensive understanding of human development generally and to fathering more specifically At the core of this book are the goals of describing and understanding the nature antecedents and consequences of father involvement across biological status family structure culture and stages in children's development both within and across scientific boundaries Each of the scientific disciplines represented offers unique methodological and theoretical approaches to the study of fathering and to the interpretation of behavioral patterns that characterize ecological systems that include as well as extend beyond family units Together the chapters offer provocative and challenging insight into the nature and meaning of fatherhood and father involvement by questioning longstanding assumptions about fathers roles in the lives of families and children in current history International Encyclopedia of Education , 2009-04-17 The field of education has experienced extraordinary technological societal and institutional change in recent years making it one of the most fascinating yet complex fields of study in social science Unequaled in its combination of authoritative scholarship and comprehensive coverage International Encyclopedia of Education Third Edition succeeds two highly successful previous editions 1985 1994 in aiming to encapsulate research in this vibrant field for the twenty first century reader Under development for five years this work encompasses over 1 000 articles across 24 individual areas of coverage and is expected to become the dominant resource in the field Education is a multidisciplinary and international field drawing on a wide range of social sciences and humanities disciplines and this new edition comprehensively matches this diversity The diverse background and multidisciplinary subject coverage of the Editorial Board ensure a balanced and objective academic framework with 1 500 contributors representing over 100 countries capturing a complete portrait of this evolving field A totally new work revamped with a wholly new editorial board structure and brand new list of meta sections and articles Developed by an international panel of editors and authors drawn from senior academia Web enhanced with supplementary multimedia audio and video files hotlinked to relevant references and sources for further study Incorporates ca 1 350 articles with timely coverage of such topics as technology and learning demography and social change globalization and adult learning to name a few Offers two content delivery options print and online the latter of which provides anytime anywhere access for multiple users and superior search functionality via ScienceDirect as well as multimedia content including audio and video files An Introduction to the Study of Education David Matheson, 2014-01-14 What is education This core textbook will help students in pursuit of this question by providing a comprehensive gentle and reflective introduction to the initial study of education Updated in line with the latest policies reforms and issues within education this third edition includes full exploration of the historical sociological philosophical and psychological roots of education a focus on all levels of education pre school primary secondary post 16 and lifelong learning the latest controversies and debates within education new material on compulsory education special educational needs and post 16 developments clear insights into the role and background of research within education

School and Work in the Eastern Caribbean Andreas Blom, Cynthia Hobbs, World Bank, 2008 As the global economy rapidly changes and new technologies are introduced more highly skilled workers are required In the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States OECS firms struggle to fill skilled positions due to a lack of qualified candidates while the number of unemployed low skilled workers is growing This report is organized into six chapters After this brief introduction the second chapter makes the argument for why skills matter to the OECS countries The subsequent three chapters emphasize how education school is intrinsically linked to the labor market both in providing initial preparation and training and in updating workers skills throughout adulthood lifelong learning Thus the third chapter discusses how adequately the schools in the OECS prepare youth for the labor market The fourth chapter focuses on the transition from the education system to the labor market The fifth chapter analyzes the opportunities for workers to continue learning while in the labor force The final chapter summarizes the main policy recommendations for improving education and training in the OECS Three transversal themes run through the report i deepening sub regional collaboration ii increasing involvement of the private sector in education and training and iii enhancing collaboration across different levels of the education and training systems Black

British Intellectuals and Education Paul Warmington, 2014-02-24 Ask any moderately interested Briton to name a black intellectual and chances are the response will be an American name Malcolm X or Barack Obama Toni Morrison or Cornel West Yet Britain has its own robust black intellectual traditions and its own master teachers among them C L R James Claudia Jones Ambalavaner Sivanandan Stuart Hall and Paul Gilroy However while in the USA black public intellectuals are an embedded if often embattled feature of national life black British thinkers remain routinely marginalized Black British Intellectuals and Education counters this neglect by exploring histories of race education and social justice through the work of black British public intellectuals academics educators and campaigners The book provides a critical history of diverse currents in black British intellectual production from the eighteenth century through post war migration and into the post multicultural present focusing on the sometimes hidden impacts of black thinkers on education and social justice Firstly it argues that black British thinkers have helped fundamentally to shape educational policy practice and philosophy particularly in the post war period Secondly it suggests that education has been one of the key spaces in which the mass consciousness of being black and British has emerged and a key site in which black British intellectual positions have been defined and differentiated Chapters explore the early development of black British intellectual life from the slave narratives to the anti colonial movements of the early twentieth century how African Caribbean and Asian communities began to organize against racial inequalities in schooling in the post Windrush era of the 1950s and 60s how from out of these grassroots struggles black intellectuals and activists of the 1970s 80s and 90s developed radical critiques of education youth and structural racism the influence of multiculturalism black cultural studies and black feminism on education current developments in black British educational work including post racial approaches Critical Race Theory and black social conservatism Black British Intellectuals and Education will be of key relevance to undergraduates postgraduates and academics engaged in research on race ethnicity education social justice and cultural studies
