Monitoring For Government Agencies:

Monitoring for Government Agencies John D. Waller, 1976 Abstract      Workways of Governance Roger H. Davidson, 2004-05-13 A Brookings Institution Press and Governance Institute publication The war on terrorism has raised profound questions of domestic governance not primarily about power or policy but about the capacities of government agencies their personnel procedures work habits and styles and ability to interface with each other These are the workways of governance As the aftermath of the tragic events of September 11 2001 made very clear shortcomings and defects in the workways of governance are all too often manifested only in times of crisis or scandal after the damage is done How much better it would be to design for government a version of the periodic physical examination where tests of various types together with the physician's observations and the patient's own testimony combine to help define the patient's status and prospects The Workways of Governance project sponsored by the Governance Institute was begun in 1997 in response to a growing concern that institutions of national government have evolved into structures and developed procedures and customs that constrain their workers and hamper their collective effectiveness A unique feature of the project is the development of a periodic review of the quality of institutional life and work in government Guidelines for evaluating and monitoring governmental entities will be established and implemented annually or biennially The resulting reports consist of both objectively measured data and subjective evaluation with the ultimate aim of generating positive change toward improving the capacity of government In this first volume of analysis arising from the Workways of Governance project contributors apply these general guidelines to evaluate the leading institutions of the federal government as listed in the first three articles of the Constitution the House of Representatives the Senate the presidency focusing on White House organization and staffing the executive branch focusing on the civil service and the federal judiciary      Telephone Monitoring Practices by Federal Agencies United States. Congress. House. Committee on Government Operations. Foreign Operations and Government Information Subcommittee, 1974      Planning Workshop to Develop Recommendations for a Ground-water Monitoring Strategy, 1985      Quality Internet Services for Government Clients Australian National Audit Office, Paul Nicoll, Brendan O'Hanlon, 2004 Government internet services have a relatively short history With few exceptions such services did not exist ten years ago In December 1997 in recognition of its potential to improve government services the Federal Government committed the Commonwealth to deliver all appropriate services using the Internet by the end of 2001 This audit examined the adequacy of selected agencies' approaches to monitoring and evaluation of internet delivered government programs and services The audit team also identified better practices and opportunities for improvement      Commission Hearings United States. National Commission for the Review of Federal and State Laws Relating to Wiretapping and Electronic Surveillance, 1976      Reports and Documents United States. Congress,      Report United States. Congress. House,      Disability, Rights Monitoring, and Social Change Marcia H. Rioux, Paula C.

Pinto, Gillian Parekh, 2015 The 2006 United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities has provided a significant catalyst and a legal mandate for disability rights monitoring and discussions on disability rights are breaking new ground across disciplines Disability Rights Monitoring and Social Change is an important and timely collection that explores and challenges the ways in which disability rights are monitored The contributors to this edited volume range from grassroots activists to international scholars and United Nations advisors The chapters address the current theoretical methodological and practical issues surrounding disability rights monitoring and offer a detailed look at law and policy reforms best practices and holistic methods This unique compilation crosses the divide between the global South and North and explores the complex issues of intersectionality that arise for women with disabilities Indigenous peoples with disabilities and people with diverse disabilities Its participatory methodology calling for the inclusion of people with disabilities in processes that involve them and its local and international perspective make this book a critical contribution to the fields of rights monitoring and disability studies Appropriate for courses on disability human rights social justice policy and advocacy this volume serves as a guide and learning tool for anyone interested in disability rights monitoring and more generally the effective practice of monitoring human rights Telephone Monitoring Practices by Federal Agencies United States.
