Monsieur Maurice:

Monsieur Maurice Amelia B. Edwards, 2018-09-21 Reproduction of the original Monsieur Maurice by Amelia B Edwards

Monsieur Maurice, and other tales Amelia Ann Blanford Edwards, 1873 Monsieur Maurice. Leipzig 1873

Amelia-Blandford Edwards, 1873 My first words on waking were to ask if he had yet come All day long I was waiting and watching and listening for him starting up at every sound and continually running to the window Would he be young and handsome Or would he be old and white haired and world forgotten like some of those Bastille prisoners I had heard my father speak of Would his chains rattle when he walked about I asked myself these questions and answered them as my childish imagination prompted a hundred times a day and still he came not Monsieur Maurice Amelia B.

Edwards, 2014-05-22 The events I am about to relate took place more than fifty years ago I am a white haired old woman now and I was then a little girl scarce ten years of age but those times and the places and people associated with them seem in truth to lie nearer my memory than the times and people of to day Trivial incidents which if they had happened yesterday would be forgotten come back upon me sometimes with all the vivid detail of a photograph and words unheeded many a year ago start out like the handwriting on the wall in sudden characters of fire But this is no new experience As age creeps on we all have the same tale to tell The days of our youth are those we remember best and most fondly and even the sorrows of that bygone time become pleasures in the retrospect Of my own solitary childhood I retain the keenest recollection as the following pages will show Monsieur Maurice, and Other Tales Amelia Ann Blanford Edwards, 2016-05-18 This work has
