Lost Architectures:

Lost Architectures Neil Spiller,2001-03-23 This book stands in opposition to the popular notion that the best architecture is built on compromise Rather Neil Spiller argues the most original and brave products of the architectural mind are often to be found in those projects which for whatever reason never came to fruition Lost Architectures presents an array of such projects from the last decades of the twentieth century constituting the unrealised dreams of some of the most inspirational architects working in the period Most of the projects featured here have seldom if ever been published before and some represent the last hand drawn work of their creators before the age of the computer finally came into full force Whilst they do not follow any specific style these projects embody a spirit defined by Spiller as New Romanticism a spirit which combines elements of aesthetic decadence and a certain camp mannerism with a love of angularity and mechanised ritual Some of the architects in question are still in practice with a great deal of high profile built work behind them others have never been recognised as they perhaps should have been In both cases this book is an invaluable resource of information and inspiration for students of architecture as well as for theorists historians and lay readers It provides essential exposure for a range of work of great vitality which might otherwise risk being lost in the course of time

Radical Architectural Drawing Neil Spiller, 2022-09-19 There is a newfound interest in architectural drawing Some of the most forward looking architects worldwide are reinventing it to discover the radical possibilities of contemporary architecture as a rich mix of the virtual and the actual Architectural drawing is adapting to compensate for these new changes to the discipline and is being used to speculate on new paradigms of space and representation This AD seeks to showcase the architects who are pushing the envelope of drawing in extraordinary ways and their insights into architecture's future spatial dexterity. The issue is built around an international group of architects involved in an ongoing KU Leuven Faculty of Architecture international drawing research project who are creating new drawing methodologies in new and exciting realms. Their projects are written about from the perspective of architectural representation by critics and commentators from across the globe illustrating a cornucopia of graphic verve and talent in this highly contemporary and thought provoking issue. The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context

Laura Savu Walker, 2015-11-19. The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context offers a timely contribution to the debates about the good life that surround us every day in the media, politics, the humanities and social sciences. The authors examine the relationship between the good life and the greater good as represented across different genres, media, cultures and disciplines. This enables them to develop a framework of values that transcends the overly rational and individualistic model of the good life advanced by neoliberalism and the happiness industry. Thus over and against normative conceptualizations of the good life that reduce meaning to money, creativity to consumption and compassion to self-help, the contributors propose an ethically charged philosophy of living that views the care for the self for the other and for the planet as the catalysts of true human flourishing. In addition to recovering the original usage of the good life from classical thought, especially the Aristotelian understanding of eudaimonia as living well and doing well, the essays gathered here highlight its entanglement with distinctly modern ideas of happiness, wellbeing, flourishing, progress, revolution, democracy, the American Dream, utopia and sustainability. As such, the essays capture the breadth and depth of the conversation about the good life that is of central importance to how we relate to the past, engage the present and envision the future.
