Hemingway, Fitzgerald and the Muse of Romantic Music Nicole J. Camastra,2023-12-11 Both Ernest Hemingway and F Scott Fitzgerald grew up in the Midwest and were strongly influenced by Romantic music anchored by the aesthetic tastes of the German immigrants who settled across that region Hemingway's ear for form and Fitzgerald's penchant for lyricism stem from early and frequent exposure to such masters as Johannes Brahms and Franz Schubert Nostalgia is typically associated with romanticism and the acoustic longing found in Hemingway and Fitzgerald's fiction resonates with it characterized in the narrative voices in Hemingway's Winner Take Nothing Fitzgerald's Tender Is the Night and other of their fiction from the early thirties Understanding that each writer has his own kind of musical biography charts new ways to read material we already think we know Reading their work within a musico historical context means acknowledging it as an extension of the 19th century it means reading them as Romantic Modernists This work reads each author's prose musically considering how Romantic music inspired their craft and distinguished their work through the pivotal juncture of the early to mid 1930s when each man faced an artistic crisis of conscience Initial chapters provide background information in music history Following chapters focus on how the life of each author was shaped by music and how they worked with specific influences that grew out of steady interactions with it evidence of which is found in archival documents and collections

Coffman,Theophilus Savvas,2020-12-18 Several of American literature's most prominent authors and many of their most perceptive critics and reviewers argue that fiction of the last quarter century has turned away from the tendencies of postmodernist writing Yet the nature of that turn and the defining qualities of American fiction after postmodernism remain less than clear This volume identifies four prominent trends of the contemporary scene the recovery of the real a rethinking of historical engagement a preoccupation with materiality and a turn to the planetary Readings of works by various leading figures including Dave Eggers Jonathan Franzen A M Homes Lance Olsen Richard Powers William T Vollmann and David Foster Wallace support a variety of arguments about this recent revitalization of American literature The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Textual Practice
